Santa Claus may be too busy to get to Station Peter at Christmas so crew members of the weatherShip Stonetown are taking all their Christmas provisions with them. Crew members "Brownie" Brown, left, and George Taylor stowed turkeys before ship left this afternoon. First mate E. E. Higgs supervised the important task. Ship will be away from port until Jan. 27, keeping watch on Pacific weather.

Stonetown's cook Harry Shillito promises a full-course meal for Dec. 25. He displays pudding and cake to be served. Most crewmen were given wrapped presents to take aboard. They had to promise not to peek before time. (Times photos by Halkett)

Canada Dollar Nears U.S. Par

Huge Influx Of Capital Reported Cause Of Gains

By HARRY YOUNG

Another big jump in the exchange rate today sent Canada's dollar the closest to parity with the U.S. it has been for many years.

The official rate in New York today was 98 1/4 cents for the Canadian dollar. In Victoria banks the most that could be secured on U.S. cheques today was 1 1/2 cents premium, while one cent only was allowed on currency transactions.

Huge investments of American capital in Canada are given by experts as the chief reason for the jump in Canadian dollar value. In the last three weeks the discount has been reduced from 4 1/2 cents to today's 1 1/2 cents. Today the Canadian rate jumped 9-16ths of a cent.

This represents a big change from October 5, 1950, when the government decided to take the Canadian dollar off its peg. Until that time the Canadian dollar was maintained at a 10 per cent discount in comparison with the U.S. dollar.

When the change was made experts had widely varied ideas of what would happen, and a few, who looked upon the development of the country as one of the great factors in western democracy, believed that the day might come when the Canadian dollar might even reach a premium with its greenback brother south of the border.

Now they look like achieving their prophecy. The Canadian dollar, which on Oct. 9 was at a discount of over 5 cents, has gradually strengthened during the past two months. A Victoria bank foreign exchange expert said that the strength in the Canadian dollar was due to the big demand for the currency in New York.

"It is just like the egg or butter market," he said. "When the demand is keen the price goes up. That's just what has happened to the Canadian dollar. There's a big demand for it."

The demand is caused by U.S. investment of capital in many Canadian industrial and mining enterprises. There has been big buying of Imperial Oil, whose capital is being increased by about $80,000,000; while the increased dividend and stock split announcement of Consolidated Mining & Smelting has caused much U.S. buying of this stock, and also of C.P.R., which controls it.

Hundreds of millions of U.S. dollars are also being sunk in Alberta oils and B.C. Quebec, Ontario and Manitoba mining enterprises.

B.C. WINS ON BIG LOAN
The strengthening of the dollar also helps the B.C. government. It negotiated its recent $35,000,000 loan in the United States when the U.S. dollar was at a premium of 5 1/2 cents.

At the present valuation, the B.C. government will save about $400,000 in annual interest charges, while if the loan were to be redeemed now there would be a capital appreciation on exchange of $1,400,000.

2 COMPANIES BACK DOWN ON OIL PIPE

Two More Firms Declare Inability To Go Ahead With Cases; Hearing Opens At Ottawa

OTTAWA, Dec. 10 (CP).—Two oil pipeline companies today withdrew applications for permission to build lines to carry oil from the Alberta fields to the west coast.

The withdrawals were made by Independent Pipe Line Co. and West Coast Transmission Co. as the Board of Transport Commissioners opened hearings on applications from five companies that were competing for the rights to the Alberta-Vancouver route.

Of the five, two other companies announced they were not ready to go ahead with their cases today, and the board began hearing evidence from the fifth—Trans-Mountain Oil Pipeline Company.

The other companies, whose submissions were to be heard later, are Alberta Natural Gas Company and Champion Pipe Line Corporation.

The Trans-Mountain firm seeks a franchise to build a line from a point near Edmonton to Vancouver, following a northern route through the Rockies by the Yellowhead Pass. It would not go through the United States.

Independent and West Coast also had planned to follow the northern route. Alberta natural gas seeks a southern line dipping into the U.S., while Champion would follow an "all-Canadian" southern route to Vancouver.

Donald L. Roberts of Vancouver, vice-president of Canadian Bechtel, Ltd., told the board today the estimated capital cost of the Trans-mountain line is $80,028,000 and that it is hoped to complete the line in 1953, assuming a start is made early next year.

Mr. Roberts said the Edmonton-Vancouver line would be 695 miles long. Its capacity would be 75,000 barrels a day.

Robert L. Bridges of San Francisco, president of Trans-Mountain, said the company plans to start moving oil to Vancouver at the rate of 37,500 barrels a day. At that rate, the company would make a 60-cents-a-barrel transportation charge, which would give it a small profit after paying all operating costs and debt service charges.

Police said that Mrs. Rogers was cooking over an electric stove when the apron caught fire. Mrs. Rogers' clothing was aflame when Sarnick police arrived. They were called by Mrs. Rogers' husband, George Rogers.

Burned when her apron caught fire while leaning over a stove, Mrs. Annie Rogers, 86, of 954 Burnside West, died in Royal Jubilee Hospital Sunday.

B.C. Urging No Time Loss On Oil Line

British Columbia today urged that "no time be lost" in establishing an oil pipeline from Alberta to this province at a hearing before the Board of Transport Commissioners in Ottawa.

B.C.'s submission to the board, being presented by H. Maclean, K.C., assistant deputy attorney-general, was released in Victoria today.

Trans-Mountain Oil Pipe Line Co. is applying to the board for permission to construct a 693-mile $82,000,000 oil pipeline from the outskirts of Edmonton to Burnaby.

The brief outlines two resolutions passed by the legislature in 1950 and 1951. The first urges adoption of the Pine Pass route for a natural gas transmission pipeline, and the second recommends the combined Yellowhead and Pine Pass route for the crude oil line which will provide for the marketing of oil discovered in B.C.

Trans-Mountain is the only company that has come forward with a completed plan, the financing of which, they say, already has been underwritten by seven major oil companies, Maclean argues.

"It is of great concern to the people of B.C. that the line should be an all-Canadian route," he said.

He also pointed out that it is important to ensure that the Peace River area should have a proper outlet for its oil.

20 CANDIDATES TALK POLICIES

Twenty aspirants for civic office will "say their piece" at the first all-candidate show sponsored by the city in Britannia Branch of the Legion at 8 tonight.

Stuart Keate, publisher of The Victoria Daily Times, will be chairman for this biggest pre-election "talkfest" to date.

As questions will be received orally from the floor, colorful audience-candidate by-play is anticipated.

Four mayoralty candidates will be allowed 10 minutes each, 14 aldermanic candidates seven, and two police commissioner candidates five.

Egypt May Sever U.K. Relations

CAIRO, Egypt, Dec. 10 (AP).—Egypt's government today considered severing diplomatic relations with Britain following leveling of an Egyptian village by road-building British soldiers.

The acting foreign minister, Ibrahim Farag Pasha, said a decision will be made soon. The cabinet held two lengthy sessions Sunday but a spokesman said only that Anglo-Egyptian relations were discussed.

In the Suez Canal zone, British sources announced that two of their soldiers were stabbed, beaten and killed and a third was critically wounded in Ismailia's Arab quarter Saturday night.

An Egyptian communique reported another Egyptian dead from wounds received in the fighting at Suez last Tuesday, raising to 51 the number of Egyptians reported killed.

CONFISCATE LANDS

The Egyptian cabinet Sunday also approved a royal decree confiscating the lands of the 78-year-old British-founded Gezira Sporting Club in Cairo.

The club's 150-acre establishment includes a race course, polo field and golf course, leased from the government and situated in Cairo's expensive foreign residential section.

Informants said that the cabinet also decided Sunday to discharge all Britons employed by Egyptian government departments. The order would affect about 250 teachers, technicians and other experts.

The proposals to sever diplomatic relations resulted "directly from British forces' aggression in Suez," said the acting foreign minister in referring to the demolition Saturday of an Arab village outside the city.

MRS. ROOSEVELT MAKES DENIAL

PARIS, Dec. 10 (AP).—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt disclaimed any intention of having expressed a disbelief in immortality or agnosticism.

She made her statements in commenting on an article in Tidings, weekly newspaper for the Los Angeles Roman Catholic archdiocese. Archbishop J. Francis A. McIntyre of Los Angeles challenged her fitness to head the United Nations' commission on human rights. The newspaper had said Mrs. Roosevelt "apparently does not acknowledge God."

Some 85 miles south of the typhoon's path, dying winds and quieter seas permitted rescue vessels to resume evacuation of 22,000 rain-soaked, frightened refugees from Camiguin Island, where Hibok Hibok volcano continued to spout molten rock and ashes.

First officer G. Hernandez, of the Philippine Air Line, who flew to Manila from Cebu, Monday, said people there told him many fishermen were killed by the typhoon.

Heavy rain accompanying the typhoon winds sent huge landslides of lava roaring down the slopes of Hibok Hibok volcano. Authorities feared towns on the north side of Camiguin Island, already covered by a deep blanket of ashes, would be buried by slides.

As he spoke the number of persons seeking sanctuary in the majlis (parliament) chambers rose to 50. They are newspaper editors and majlis representatives who say they had been threatened by "government gangsters."

Today they decided to send a petition to the shah, declaring that public order was breaking down and urging him to take steps to restore it.

The senate was called to discuss the riots, which reached a peak Thursday with eight dead and 250 injured.

Meanwhile Iranian oil officials, seeking outlets for the product of their nationalized oil industry, said they have worked out a plan for payment through barters.

Abbas Mazda, information officer for the industry, also said Iran is willing to accept on a short-term basis a "mixed board of supervision" consisting of Iranians and representatives of the world bank.

(London reports said the world bank had suggested it become trustee of the oil industry, at a standstill since the nationalized Anglo-Iranian Oil Company withdrew its employees.)

The Wall Street Journal of New York recently commented on U.S. interest in C.P.R., the H.B.C., and other Canadian companies.

The Hudson's Bay Co. owns valuable oil properties in Alberta and British Columbia.

It is believed that recent oil strikes have made investors "bullish" on the company—particularly as it coincides with a period when Britain needs Canadian and American dollars.

Clare Chubb, general manager of the Victoria branch of H.B.C., told The Times that reported sale of the company was "a false rumor."

The fate of 112,000 bottles of rum, being held here because the shipment wasn't fumigated by an approved officer, was still undecided this morning.

Col. Donald McGugan, liquor commissioner, said there was no change in the situation but that he was working on a solution to the problem.

Meanwhile, the large shipment laid idle at Ogden Point docks—the centre of considerable attraction all of a sudden.

Customs officials, who are directly concerned, guessed the shipment would be sent to Vancouver for fumigation. The exporters would have to pay the cost of fumigation.

The other solution would be to talk Ottawa into approving the Dutch veterinary officer who carried out the fumigating task, on official said.

City liquor stores are already out of the two brands, Lemon Hart and Lamb's. Esquimalt's store has enough for about two days.

Faint Hope Of Truce By Time Limit

Korea Talks Marked By Delay, Distrust

MUNSAN, Korea, Dec. 10 (AP).—Only 17 days remain for Allied and Communist negotiators to agree on an armistice within the 30-day time limit they set. The outlook is gloomy.

The negotiations entered their sixth month today with an Allied demand for immediate talks on exchanging prisoners of war.

The truce sub-committee also are locked in stubborn debate over how to enforce an armistice.

The talks have piled up a record of bitter debate, delay, distrust, deadlock—and at varying times since they opened July 10—prolonged suspension.

But some high Allied officers express belief privately that an armistice agreement may yet be reached by Dec. 27. That was the date agreed upon as a deadline when the issue of a buffer zone across Korea was settled Nov. 27.

It took four months to agree on the demilitarized zone which would separate opposing armies. That zone follows the current battle line, most of it north of the 38th parallel.

Both sides then introduced plans for supervising an armistice. They were wide apart.

The Allies proposed joint Allied-Red inspection teams free to travel all over Korea; the right to rotate troops and replace worn equipment; a ban on military build-up including construction of airfields; the right to hold war-won islands off North Korea.

Later, the Allies said they would give up the islands for "suitable compensation."

YELLOWKNIFE, N.W.T., Dec. 10 (CP).—A civic half-holiday was declared for Yellowknife today in honor of the opening of the North West Territories council.

The four appointed members of the council arrived from Ottawa Sunday.

ON THE TIMES

By ART STOTT

When you watch small children playing store you can't help being impressed by their imaginations. You note the characters they assume. The store lady is prim and precise, usually with a sack tied around her waist as an apron. The customer has the grand manner, lavishly spending money as if it were printed on bits of paper on the kitchen table—which it was.

And you smile when you listen to the transactions. The store lady hands across her counter a pound of butter, which turns out to be a six-inch piece of two-by-four wrapped in brown paper, and says, "That will be a dollar, please."

The customer digs into his pocket, produces a lot of slips and asks change for a ten. But the goods don't sell for a dollar very long. The kids are inflationary.

The customer asks for a sack of sugar, and the store lady heaves up a bag filled with dry sand. For that she demands $100. The customer pays with another piece of paper. After that prices begin to soar. The next item costs a billion, another three trillion. And the customer pays without a murmur. He has lots of money, and can always make more up on the kitchen table.

Stott

Haggle At A Quarter

If there's any haggling at all, it's over some low-priced article—a briquette covered by a soap wrapper that sells for 50 cents kitchen table money, and which the customer thinks should cost only 25 cents. The youngsters recognize the difference between a quarter and four-bits. They're prepared to bargain over coins they know. When it comes to millions, billions or trillions—what's the odds. They're only words.

You smile and walk away, hoping the kids won't get too messy with the briquettes and worrying a little over the possibility that the sack of sand sugar will be dumped out on the floor before they're finished. You laugh to yourself at their prices and the casual way they throw millions and billions around. They'll learn, you think. But will they?

You begin to wonder how many adults actually realize what a million is. Everyone who is literate can write the figure—a unit and six noughts after it. But that's only a symbol. How many can translate it into terms that mean anything?

It ought to have some meaning to us if we're to understand the world we live in. But are we doing any more than parrot off figures when we say that in 1949 a total of 2,231,970 Canadians paid $301,000,000 in income tax to the federal government?

Maybe some people comprehend. Most of them don't. That $301,000,000 hasn't any significance to the majority. But it does mean something when a man cuts it down to the size of his own contributions. It's what comes from the weekly deductions off his and a lot of other pay cheques. Those deductions he can understand. He's probably paying them at the rate of from $3 to $7 a week. He's a bit startled when he hears what the big fellows are paying, but their income is a little beyond his vision.

Unrealistic

They aren't very realistic. They belong somewhere beside the small child playing store and tossing off tremendous figures with the easy aplomb of ignorance. It's difficult for him to see them as fellow citizens who probably worry about high prices, too.

If he takes the time to look into a new government green book, "Taxation Statistics, 1951," which gives information on taxes in 1949, he may study the matter out to his own satisfaction. The volume is produced in simplified form, so that anyone should be able to follow it.

The book avoids writing millions wherever possible. It just indicates them at the top of columns. It's a valuable and authentic compilation of tables. But the average guy can't help wishing that it would be broken down into still simpler terms—terms that he can judge in relationship to the weekly pay cheque, the one, two, five, 10 or 20-dollar bills he collects when he goes to the bank.

He'd like it that way. Then he could leave the millions, billions and trillions to the statisticians, the kids playing store, and Bert Petrie, who needs them in his business of calculating the size and remoteness of stars.

2,000 Canadian Troops Sail To Join NATO Force

HALIFAX, Dec. 10 (CP).—The 2,000 men, part of Canada's 27th Brigade, were impatient to get away. A roar of approval went up when the gangplank was finally lowered and the tugs edged the transport Fairsea away from the dock.

The cold, early-morning drizzle which greeted the first of five trainloads of men to arrive here Saturday, gave way to bright, spring-like weather and billowing white clouds as the ship departed in the afternoon, headed for Germany, where the men will join Gen. Eisenhower's N.A.T.O. army.

The scene was reminiscent of Second World War days, when thousands departed from this old war base. Some wives and sweethearts came from distant parts of the country for a last goodbye. Most of the men have signed for three years of European service.

Robert Henry, of Hamilton, Ont., was going for the "adventure." He served five years overseas in the last war. Sgt. Dick Stelham, Ottawa, who served with the Cameron Highlanders in Iceland, England and France, was headed back to "get a look at Germany. I never did get to Germany."

The Salvation Army was on hand to pass out packages of fruit and candy along with a booklet introducing the men to Europe. Many men carried Christmas parcels, fiddles or banjos, besides their full army packs.

Friends, relatives and a few hundred Halifaxians stood on the dock for several hours talking to the men aboard ship. One soldier reminded a friend not to forget to send him pictures.

Another youth heard his mother's last advice: "Don't forget to say your prayers, dear."

HEART PLACED INSIDE BABY

TACOMA, Wash., Dec. 10 (AP).—Six-day-old Deborah Angelo today was given a good chance of becoming the first baby to survive an "outside heart" operation.

Deborah was born Wednesday to Mrs. Elvon Angelo, her heart completely outside the chest.

The doctor, who insisted on remaining anonymous, said the operation consisted of laying open the chest from the neck to the navel and then placing the heart under the breast bone.

Great Orinoco Headwaters Gained By Man

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP).—A cable message reading "greetings from the headwaters of the Orinoco River" Sunday night signalled the first penetration by explorers into the interior of the Southern Venezuelan jungles.

Ever since Sir Walter Raleigh first tried in the 16th century, explorers have been stopped from reaching the Orinoco headwaters by mountainous gorges and insect-infested terrain.

The conquest of the 1,600-mile-long Orinoco was announced here by Charles B. Hitchcock, explorer and Venezuela expert for the American Geographical Society.

Hitchcock said the eight-word message was sent by Dr. Jose M. Cruxent, director of the Museum of Natural Science at Caracas and ethnologist on the expedition.

The message indicates, Hitchcock said, that the expedition had required five weeks to travel from the outermost settlement on the Orinoco up the river and across 70 miles of hitherto-impassable terrain.

Cruxent and his party, including three young French scientists, started out from Caracas early last summer.

The Orinoco headwaters are in the southernmost tip of Venezuela near the Brazilian border. The only known inhabitants of the region are two primitive tribes of Indians, constantly at war with each other.

Concession Granted

REGINA, Dec. 10 (CP).—A 10,000-acre mining concession 75 miles northeast of Lac la Ronge, Sask., has been granted the Mining Corporation of Canada Ltd.

The area is between Waddy and Nistossini Lakes, next to Hudson Bay Exploration and Development Company's concession No. 1. The region is considered favorable for base metals such as copper and zinc.

MANCHESTER, Eng. (CP).—Manchester has opened a 10-mile tunnel which is expected to bring an extra 25,000,000 gallons of water daily to the city by 1954.

And they called it—
RUDLIN STREET

BEHIND THE SIGNS WITH Jim Nesbitt

Rudlin Street was named for Capt. George Rudlin, well-known mariner.

Born in England in 1836, Rudlin went to sea at the age of 12 as crew member of a fishing vessel. Coming to this coast in 1866 he engaged for a time in logging on Discovery Island, where he built the schooner Discovery. Later he was captain of the schooner Black Diamond, in coal trade between Victoria and Nanaimo, and also shipped the historic Beaver.

In 1883 Capt. Rudlin joined the Canadian Pacific Navigation Company, purchased by the C.P.R. in 1907. Early in 1903 he was given command of the new Princess Victoria, the speed queen of her day. He died aboard this ship in September of that year.

ODEON PLEDGES

1,000 Offer Blood Pints For Tickets

A winning combination of teenagers on the stage and adults in the audience at the Odeon Theatre Sunday gave promise of an additional 1,122 pints of blood for Canadian Red Cross.

The occasion was the "Pint Parade" staged by the Red Cross under the patronage of Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Wallace and Mrs. Wallace. Admission was a signed pledge to give one pint of blood after the new year.

"It will be up to the people if they want to give," a Red Cross official said today. "They will not be pressed to do so."

A feature of the program was the presentation of "20 or more" donation certificates by Red Cross president Col. Maurice Turner, O.B.E., C.D., to Mrs. C. P. Hayes, Metcalson; Mrs. Eileen Rogers, 713 View Street; Maj. F. Richmond, R.R. 4, Victoria, and James Walker, Scott Street.

Similar presentations were made earlier in the week to Capt. J. N. Robertson, Work Point, and Cmdr. F. Fairfull, H.M.C. Dockyard, who could not attend the show.

Many of Victoria's younger entertainers took part in the show, conducted by Hugh Curtis and Ray Orchard. Adults predominated in the audience, since persons under 18 are not allowed to donate blood.

The show precedes a four-day transfusion clinic—longer than usual—that opened today at Red Cross House. Hours will be from 1:30 to 4:30 in the afternoon, and 6:30 to 9:30 at night, until and including Thursday.

Transportation can be obtained by calling B 2213 or B 4318.

Hike Canada's U.N. Payment

PARIS, Dec. 10 (CP).—Canada today accepted a slight increase in her contribution to the United Nations budget but called for readjustment next year.

Maurice Bourget, Liberal member of Parliament from Levis, Que., and Canadian delegate to the U.N., said Canada hoped that Soviet bloc states would pay more toward operation of the U.N. in view of their claims to improved economic conditions within their borders.

Canada agreed to pay 3.35 per cent of the U.N. budget compared with 3.30 per cent or $1,404,810 last year when the total budget was $42,570,000.

The United States asked for an immediate cut of her share and ran into vehement opposition from the Soviet bloc.

You'll like it better because of NICKEL

Hundreds of everyday uses for Nickel have been developed by the Nickel industry through a planned program of research. Today a large share of Canada's Nickel production is being diverted from peacetime uses into channels for preparedness. So the Nickel mine facilities, greatly expanded over the past decade, are again being operated at peak capacity. There is actually more Nickel now being delivered by Canada to the free world than in any peacetime year.

SAMBA—Ava Gardner and Frank Sinatra, honeymooning in London, reported to Scotland Yard today the theft from their hotel suite of a $10,000 diamond and emerald necklace and a $50 pair of gold cuff links with diamond chips.

Later, Sinatra reported to police that his star sapphires ring valued at $2,000, and a pair of his shoes also were missing.

The theft apparently occurred during the weekend. Miss Gardner left her jewel box in the suite and discovered the pieces were missing when she was preparing for tonight's midnight benefit show for the National Playing Field Association, sponsored by the Duke of Edinburgh.

Miss Gardner danced a samba with the Duke at a nightclub party Saturday night.

UPSET—In Port Colborne, Ont., G. S. MacDonald took office today as mayor after one of the greatest voting upsets in civic history.

MacDonald polled 2,440 votes to 1,534 for H. N. Knoll, who had been mayor for the past 19 years.

LIFE—In Maysville, Ky., Mrs. Mary Brewer Patterson died Sunday at the age of 111. A bride at 14, she had married three times. Mrs. Patterson, whose favorite pastime was pipe smoking, had said she never saw a movie nor owned a radio. She gave birth to 11 children, all without the aid of a doctor.

DRAFT—In Spokane Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla.) says Gen. Eisenhower will not be a presidential candidate unless the Republican party "drafts him."

Kerr said Sunday he did not know whether either Eisenhower or President Truman would be presidential candidates, but added if Mr. Truman did not run, "the Democratic party has many able men to select for the honor."

DIED—In Kingsville, Ont., funeral services will be held Tuesday for Mrs. Jack Miner, the widow of one of Canada's most famous naturalists, who died on Saturday night.

Mrs. Miner's husband, Jack, died in 1944 at the age of 80 after a lifetime dedicated to building the area around the couple's home into one of the most well-known bird sanctuaries in the world.

IN HOLLYWOOD—Edgar Bergen and his little wooden pal, Charlie McCarthy, start a tour of 17 military hospitals Thursday with an air force transport plane serving as their sleigh.

Bergen will leave here in an air force C-54 plane loaded with gifts for the servicemen and his wise-cracking companion will visit in the hospitals. The gifts were donated to the radio comedian by his fans.

COMPLAINT—In Veneto, Italy, Luciano Regolatto complained today that two young girls armed with revolvers held him up on a road near here and forced him to kiss them; then fled with his wallet and wrist watch.

VALE—In Ludington, Mich., Sheriff Edward Anderson walked into the jail Sunday carrying breakfast for his three prisoners. A lone prisoner boomed a merry good morning and said:

"Shucks, sheriff, you didn't have to bring three breakfasts. The other two left."

DIED—In Montreal, Msgr. Joseph Guy, former Roman Catholic archbishop of Gravelbourg, Sask., died in hospital Saturday following an operation. He was 68.

Born in Montreal, Msgr. Guy entered the Oblate Order in suburban Lachine in 1900. He studied here and in Ottawa and was ordained in the latter city in 1906.

He was named apostolic vicar of Gravelbourg, Sask., in 1929 and bishop of Gravelbourg in 1937. He retired nine years later.

upon which the award was based came from Sgt. John J. Phelan Jr. He said the Reds opened up at 100-yard range with intense machine-gun and mortar fire. Attempts by the three platoons failed to dislodge the Reds.

"I then noticed that Rodriguez was . . . picking up hand grenades from his squad members. Rodriguez left all cover and dashed 60 yards up the slope, yelling and throwing grenades with no regard for the murderous fire aimed at him.

"He dropped several grenades in the first hole and then ran around the left flank where he silenced an automatic weapon with two more grenades. He then dashed across the top of the peak, dropping grenades in two enemy holes as he passed. Reaching the right flank, he assaulted the remaining enemy automatic weapon and killed all of its crew."

G.I. Gets Highest U.S. Award For Korea Action

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP).—An infantryman with less than seven months' service in the army when he knocked out five Communist gun emplacements, has been awarded the medal of honor.

The highest United States military decoration was conferred on Sgt. Joseph C. Rodriguez, 23, of San Bernardino, Calif. He was a private when he fought his own personal and courageous action near the Korean village of Munye-ri last March 21, killing 15 of the enemy. He was wounded eight days later in another engagement.

The army announcement today on the award said Rodriguez's action was an "incredible display of valor."

Rodriguez now is en route home.

FIREFIGHTERS SEE 3 CHILDREN BURN

BARRIE, Ont., Dec. 10 (CP).—Three children perished in their flaming home in Honey Harbor today while firefighters watched helplessly. Four other children escaped.

Burned to death were: Twins Peter and Paul Rice, 15 months, and their sister, Mary, 4 months. Honey Harbor is about 90 miles north of Toronto in the Muskoka district.

Police said the fire was started by 14-year-old Malcolm Rice, who was playing with matches while his mother went for water.

Bitter Cold, Gales Sweep S. California

Freezing Winds Hit Crops; Lives Periled

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 10 (AP).—Freezing winds of up to 75 miles an hour shrieked across Southern California today imperiling lives and crops.

Long stretches of highway were closed. All but the largest vessels were warned off the seas. Airports were closed. Power lines fell, plunging cities into darkness.

Two young students in a skiff were believed blown out to sea in the Malibu area.

Gale-whipped desert sands scourged the palm from automobiles in the San Bernardino area. In the San Fernando Valley, palm trees were stripped of fronds.

Ontario international airport was closed when great sand clouds cut visibility to one-sixteenth of a mile. Burbank, San Bernardino and Riverside airports also shut down for a time.

Paris of San Bernardino, Ontario, Sun Valley, Canoga Park and Reseda were blacked out temporarily by power failures.

Crop damage was believed running high but there were no estimates of cost yet. Smoke from orchard smudges, pots-billowed high in the air as growers fought to save their crops from temperatures that dropped as low as 15 degrees above zero.

Sunday was the coldest Dec. 9 in the 75-year history of the weather bureau here. The official 32 in Los Angeles was the lowest since the record of 27.9 in January of 1949.

Delay Hearing Of E. Germany On Free Vote

By STANLEY JOHNSON

PARIS, Dec. 10 (AP).—The United Nations' special political committee put off until Tuesday an airing of East Germany's views on a proposed U.N. survey designed to pave the way for unified free elections in Germany.

Chairman Selim Sarper of Turkey told the 60-country group that the East German delegation, which arrived from Berlin Sunday night, had told him it was not yet ready to give its views.

The Communist-controlled East German government was sent a four-man delegation to tell the U.N. what it thinks of the proposal by the United States, Britain and France for an international inquiry to find out whether the time is right for holding free elections throughout Germany.

West German spokesmen told the committee Saturday the German people eagerly want such an inquiry. This, they said, includes the 18,000,000 persons in East Germany.

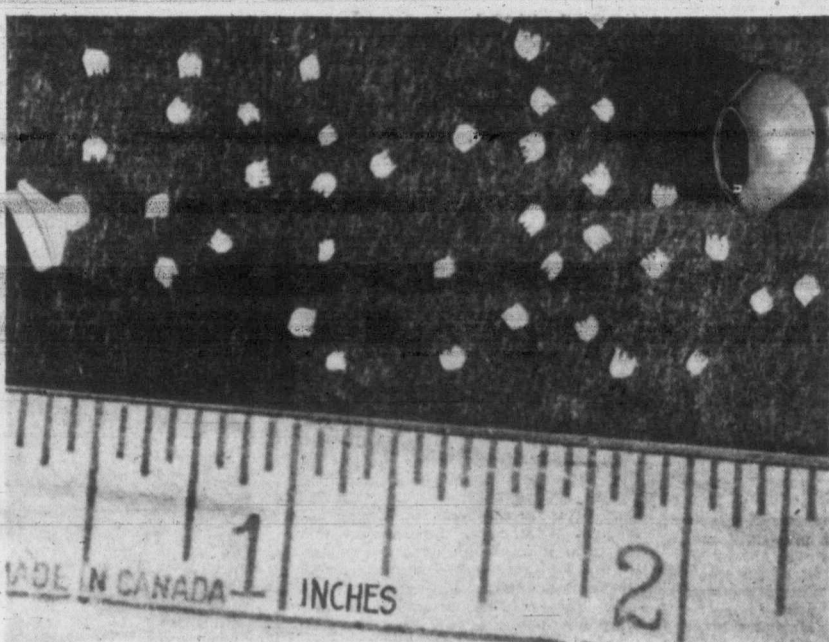

Anton Ackermann, member of the East German politburo, told reporters last night: "We have decided to say what we have to say only before the committee."

But prior statements by Russia's Andrei Vishinsky, Jakob A. Malik and other communist delegates—who were at Orly airport to greet the East Germans—indicated clearly that the delegation will tell the committee it wants no part of the U.N. inquiry.

In Berlin, Deputy Premier Walter Ulbricht of East Germany said yesterday that such an investigation would be senseless. He said the Germans themselves should get together and decide on holding elections.

Russian Soldier Hard To Locate In Berlin But Stories Are Not

By DOUGLAS HOW

BERLIN, Dec. 10 (CP).—You are more than 100 miles inside the Iron Curtain here, encircled by Russian soldiers, and it is mainly for that reason that Berlin is the first city to be placed out of bounds to Canada's 27th Brigade.

Yet a Russian soldier is a hard man to find in Berlin. An American sergeant who has been here a year says three Russian soldiers got drunk one night and came into the Allied sector of the city. He hadn't seen them himself though. He'd read about it in a magazine weeks after it happened.

The Russians don't normally come into the west sector of Berlin except on duty or, in the case of senior officers, for social events. They leave their own sector of the city to German Communist police. Their nearest units are in the surrounding countryside.

Even there, according to correspondents who have been there, the Russians are kept largely within their own camps or compounds. They don't mix with the Germans, the way American and British soldiers do, roaming the streets, going into bars, sometimes getting into fights with Germans over German girls.

In West Berlin, you can see one or two Russians on guard at the huge Soviet war memorial for they guard it day and night, reportedly because the Germans defile it if they don't.

We went to see it after dark one evening and a soldier beckoned us away with his tommy gun. A West German policeman nearby said no one is allowed near the memorial after dark.

But if there aren't too many Russian soldiers in sight in Berlin, there are lots of stories about them. Like the one about an Allied officer who told a Russian officer at a dance how much he'd enjoyed an "American fox-trot."

The Allied officer swears that the Russian indignantly told him that the fox-trot is a Russian invention.

He and his fellow officers have found that the one real way to get action from a Russian soldier is to be tough. Hence the conduct of a British brigadier who was once arrogantly asked for his passport by a Russian soldier.

He reared in his seat, bristled, his moustache and thundered, "You—" and the Russian briskly let him pass.

Well Cave-In Traps Farmer 15 Feet Deep

PENDLETON, Ore., Dec. 10 (AP).—A 51-year-old rancher, trapped for 18 hours in a 15-foot well while heavy digging equipment churned about him, was brought to safety today.

At the Pendleton Hospital where he was taken after the dramatic rescue in sub-freezing temperatures, doctors described his condition as "good."

The rancher, Norman Vina Ford, 51, was pinned to the well bottom with his foot under a plank when the walls caved in at 2:30 p.m. E.S.T. Sunday. At 8:30 this morning, he was lifted to the surface.

"For the last hour, rescuers dug with small shovels and their hands to free the trapped man's feet, one of which was caught under a plank."

Earlier, bulldozers and heavy diggers gouged a hole 40 feet wide in the back yard of the Ford home.

The walls caved in Sunday when Ford and his 18-year-old son were digging the partially-completed well.

Ford was at the bottom when the wall collapsed.

The Two Giants

THE TRUCE IN KOREA, IF IT IS finally negotiated, must be considered against a much wider background. In it Korea is a bloody and costly incident, but an incident only.

In the first place a Korean truce can hardly settle even the future of Korea. If the Chinese and Russian communists really want to end the fighting there, as they say, they will not abandon their plan to possess Korea in the end. They will wait patiently for years if necessary, in the hope of accomplishing by internal revolution in South Korea, by the familiar technique of the inside job, the theft and conquest which failed on the battlefield. If they intend to end the military war we may be sure that they regard South Korea as a potential Czechoslovakia to be "liberated" at the proper time.

Hence if the country which the United Nations have saved by force of arms is to be permanently secured it will require the presence of western power for a long time.

Once freed of the burden of the Korean war, the Chinese communists will then be in a position to exert their pressure elsewhere.

Unquestionably Mao Tse-tung began his dictatorship of China with the intention of seizing Formosa, as he clearly announced, and penetrating Southeast Asia. At his historic conference with Stalin early in 1950 he was diverted by the Russians into Korea, on the assurance that the western world would not intervene. We may be sure that he has never forgotten but only postponed his other intended campaigns. Formosa may be immovable under American protection. Southeast Asia will be much harder to defend than Korea as the difficulties of France in Indo-China and Britain in Malaya clearly show.

In estimating the future of Asia it is necessary to dismiss at once the west's original estimate of the Chinese communists.

They had been expected, after their long and exhausting civil war, to concentrate at least for some years, upon internal tasks of reconstruction while leaving their neighbors alone. Writing in the Manchester Guardian, Mr. Robert Guilan, a Frenchman who has given us the most penetrating reports out of China in the last year, confesses that he had shared this expectation. He had expected the communists to be harmless to their neighbors, at least for a time. He, like many others, was quite wrong.

The communist regime is being built in China on the Russian model. It is being built on the base of a vast and expanding army and on the theory of expansion. That may not have been Mao's original intention but, like most dictators, he finds himself driven by the demon he has dreamed. He cannot retreat but must always advance.

Mr. Guilan says the Chinese conquest of Southeast Asia would be "a relatively easy task" but by no means the end of the adventure now in its first chapter. What we have to realize, he says, is that China is becoming one of the most powerful military nations in the world. It can supply cannon fodder for the Russian war machine by the million and, equipped by Russian industry, can presently provide an Asiatic complement to Russia's strength in Europe. This could create in a generation or so the most formidable military menace in history beside which Hitler's Reich would look like a corporal's guard.

But nothing ever goes as dictators expect. For Russia there is immediate assistance in the strength of China but long-term danger, of which Stalin no doubt is well aware. As he grows stronger Mao will not be easily pushed into such costly blunders as Korea. He will not be going to Stalin, hat in hand. Stalin, or some successor, will be coming to Peking.

No two such imperialisms of the past have ever avoided a collision. They make peace now, as Stalin made peace with Hitler in 1939, but it will be a brittle peace at best and is likely to prove, in Hobbes' famous phrase, solitary, poor, nasty, brutish and short.

It may well last long enough, however, before the collision to keep the free world in acute danger in our lifetime. To allow a truce in Korea to disperse western power would therefore be the ultimate madness, on which the communists no doubt count and for which they may be willing to pay a temporary price.

A Brighter Picture

GEORGE S. SCHUYLER, ASSOCIATE editor of the Pittsburgh Courier, a Negro newspaper of wide circulation, has rendered a distinguished service to the free world. Mr. Schuyler has documented the advance made by Negroes in the United States.

The Pittsburgh Courier writer expresses surprise at European reaction to American Negroes studying away from home. There, he says, the Negro from the United States has been treated with an exaggerated kindness by people who look sympathetically upon him as the victim of a cruel and starving racism in his own country.

Mr. Schuyler lists a few developments which give the lie to this highly publicized concept of the American Negro.

Says Mr. Schuyler: In 1950 over 90 per cent of American Negroes were illiterate. Today there is almost no illiteracy among them. The educational systems that eliminated their illiteracy were voted and maintained by white-controlled municipalities, counties and states. Over 650,000 have attended college.

In 1900 Negroes owned only 17 per cent of the non-farm homes in which they dwelt. By 1934 they owned 34 per cent and in 1940 city-dwelling Negroes owned 500,000 homes with a median value of $6,377. Altogether American Negroes own proportionately about the same number as white people.

There is not the same income gap in the United States between the races as is found, for instance, between Communist Party members and non-members in the Soviet Union.

More than 1,250,000 U.S. Negroes are members of labor unions with the same protection, privileges, security and seniority as white workers. Today many predominantly white unions have Negro officers, even in the South.

Segregation in the armed services has been rapidly broken down since 1944.

The American Negro has 200 newspapers with their own printing plants and combined circulation of 3,000,000, and not a single one has been suppressed, although they are unsparing in their criticism of racial discrimination.

Mr. Schuyler concludes his comment with the statement:

"Here, then, is the real Negro in American society, not the phantom Negro of the anti-American propagandist, native or foreign. Admittedly we have a long way to go before we reach Utopia and all Americans in truth become brothers and sisters. But considering all of the factors involved, the facts of human nature and the brief span of years since most Negroes were property and men shed their blood over whetters they should be admitted to the national family, where can the record be equalled?"

"Instead of being apologetic about it, Americans should be proud that their free system has been capable of such elasticity and that within the lifetime of our grandparents this nation has moved so close to solving so difficult a problem."

Objectively, one significant fact arises from Mr. Schuyler's presentation. It is not that racial discrimination has been eliminated, but that such progress has been made towards its removal. Furthermore, it is important to note the cry which goes up when instances of discrimination are revealed. In dictatorships that cry is not heard. Silence does not, however, indicate that grounds for it do not exist.

Disturbing Our Complacency

SPEAKING TO A VICTORIA SERVICE club last week, Barry Gault, chief executive officer of the Labor Relations Board, stated Canada is one of the richest nations in material wealth but "culturally it is a beggar."

A day or two later, John Fisher, CBC commentator, spoke to students and doctors at the University of Western Ontario Medical School and described Canadians as "copy cats, pussy-footers, lacking color and sometimes phony."

The two speakers have jabbed Canadians in a vulnerable spot—their complacency. Presumably both gentlemen have used exaggeration to emphasize their points. Canadians are neither as lacking in culture as Mr. Gault suggests, nor as drab in color as Mr. Fisher asserts.

Mr. Fisher's own organization, the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation shows in some of its programs, and appreciation for culture, and Mr. Gault's agency, we believe, would frown on the suggestion that it comes within the circle of "pussy-footers." Making due allowances for the self-mutilation seemingly enjoyed by Canadians who practise the exhibitionism of proclaiming a national inferiority complex, there is substance in what these critics say.

Mr. Gault, of course, can draw to himself an argument on the definition of culture—a reflection of the life of a community as opposed to an imported, stylized commodity brought from Europe or the older civilizations. And Mr. Fisher might be told that color and originality can be found in Canada by those who look for it.

There is no occasion, however, to rise in indignation against the comments of Mr. Gault and Mr. Fisher. Their remarks deserve attention. They serve a useful purpose if they do nothing more than act as a disturbing influence in the placid pools of national smugness that are too apt to form in nations which are comfortable and largely contented. For that the speakers are to be thanked.

Who's Crying For What?

EARLIER THIS YEAR THE AUTOMOBILE industry, and particularly the sales branch of it, cried in anticipated pain over government taxes and credit restrictions. That cry reached strident expression in the House of Commons through the medium of a member termed "scurrilous propaganda sheets," sent out by the Vancouver Motor Vehicle Association.

What happened to the automobile industry and automobile sales this year? The following answer is furnished in Hansard by Mr. James Sinclair, parliamentary assistant to the Minister of Finance.

"In the first nine months of 1950, the biggest year of car sales in Canada's history, 331,244 new motor vehicles were sold. In the first nine months of this year, after added taxes and credit restrictions, 320,322 new motor vehicles were sold. As far as value is concerned the total sales by motor vehicle dealers, including sales of cars, parts and services, in 1950, were $1,053 million. In 1951 the figures were $1,294 million."

In other words, the dealers handled nearly one-quarter of a billion dollars more business this year than last. Who's crying for what?

LOOSE ENDS

Rest In Peace

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

IN PRESENTING her monthly bill for eggs at my door today my neighbor, Mrs. Noggins, remarked that she would like a cash settlement "before this 'ere Social Credit system gets goin', for I'd druther have a dollar, even if it's only worth fifty cents, than any of this new-fangled paper money dreamed up out of a fountain pen.

"Now I see by the papers," she added, "that nobody can mention Social Credit these days without all the Social Credit boys rushin' into print to denounce the Money Power and 'Igh Finance and all like that. The Social Credit Party may not amount to much in British Columbia but it 'as a full stable of letter writers, waitin' with pens poised ready to strike whenever a dollar dares to raise its 'ead. They may not be able to get any votes but they sure can write the prettiest letters. If polities was a writin' competition you can see who would win."

THESE fellers with their fountain pens as is jest bustin' to get at the nation's cheque book and meanwhile amusin' themselves by writin' to the papers, which don't cost so much—these fellers think they've 'it on somethin' new.

"Why, Uncle 'Erbert, when 'e was an alderman in Liverpool fifty years ago, knew all about Social Credit before Major Douglas was born and the government of Alberta was only a gleam in Bill Aberhart's eye. Yes, 'Erbert used 'is Social Credit till the bailliff finally sold 'im out and took all the furniture, and as 'Erbert said, 'is system was foolproof and sound, provided it was used by everybody through the government. The trouble was that the government, bein' a slave to the Money Power, wouldn't co-operate with 'Erbert. If 'e says, the government and everybody else would only live on credit all the bills would cancel themselves out and we'd be back just where we started, except, of course, we'd lost the furniture."

WELL, the Social Credit boys 'out 'ere is quite right in praisin' the Alberta government, for it's as innocent of Social Credit as a newborn babe. They've got everythink in Alberta except Social Credit, which they helected the government to introjuce. The government is too smart to think of followin' its own theories.

"Yes, sir, 'is the most conservative government in the country. Not a fountain pen in the whole cabinet. If you want to prevent any radical theories like Social Credit, vote for a Social Credit government and be safe."

AND ALBERTA is mighty prosperous, too. This, of course, is due entirely to the Social Credit government that wouldn't think of bringin' in Social Credit. If there's any connection between the oil fields and the prosperity of Alberta 'is purely coincidental, as they say in the movies. So all we've got to do in B.C. to be as prosperous as Alberta is to elect a Social Credit government, but the discovery of a little oil wouldn't 'urt none. As fer me, I'll take the oil and let the credit go.

"Well, the way I read it from the pretty letters in the paper, Social Credit is a system fer increasin' the money in the 'ands of the public. Yes, sir, that's wot we need to beat inflation. Float out more money, callin' it dollar bills or Sagiel Credit or jest plain paper and ink, and then watch prices fall.

EVERYBODY knows that 'is own trouble is a lack of money. If that's true of us small folks it's true of the government. Let everybody have more money and we'll all be prosperous. 'Is only the bankers and the Money Power as say there's too much money already and not enough goods, but nobody believes that after readin' the letters in the paper. All we need is more fountain pens and a little extra ink to write ourselves into hopefulness.

"They started this idea as somethin' new juring the depression and they dressed up the oldest idea in the world, goin' back to Pharaoh, the idea of soft money. They dressed it up in a lot of new-fangled gimmicks but you could see the same old skeleton rattlin' under the fancy clothes."

AND bein' as there wasn't enough money in the depression and more needed to purchase the goods that was rottin', unused, why of course 'was a good idea, though as old as 'istory. But now, when there's too much money causin' inflation, the Social Crediters can't reverse gears. Gasoline was needed to get the fire goin' years ago. Now they're still tryin' to pour more of it on a conflagration. We need firemen so they call in pyromaniacs.

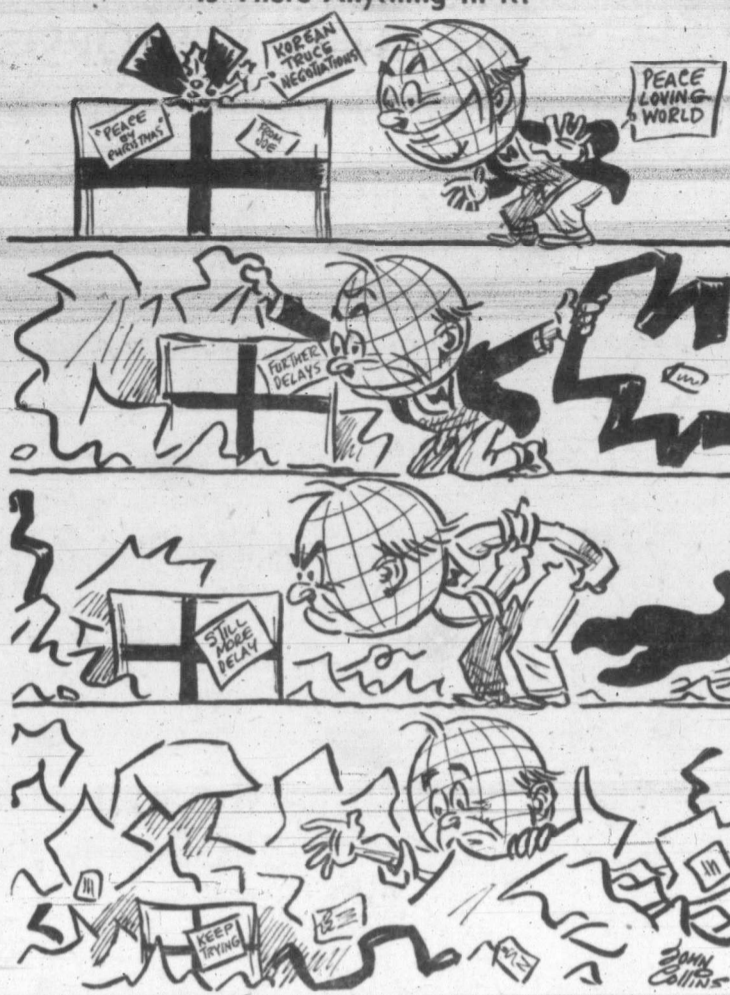

BUT 'is no matter. I see by the letters that you don't 'ave to believe in anything, except prosperity, to join the Social Credit party. A Liberal or a Conservative or a Socialist or a Vegetarian is all welcome and no questions asked. You don't need any principles just so long as you're against depression and any kind of trouble. Provided you're willin' to leave everythink to the boys with the fountain pens you'll find a nice soft spot in Aberhart's bosom. The party 'as no leader, no platform and none of the evils of the other parties. Jest lay down yer weary 'ead and draw Social Dividends. Bein' old and tired I'm joinin' the party, but I'm keepin' my chickens, jest in case, and I'll take cash for these eggs, sir, if you don't mind."

'A Bootleggers' Act'

Toronto Globe and Mail

The experience of Ontario areas which have been under the jurisdiction of the Canada Temperance Act has been that nothing but the legal sale of liquor has been banned. Illegal sale flourishes. Undisciplined and unpunished drinking occurs wherever and whenever any one wants to indulge himself, whether he is of age or a minor. The C.T.A. has a provision against private transport of liquor. But there is no enforcement machinery except the municipal constabulary. The result is that illegal transport flourishes on a basis as open and as flagrant as the drinking practices.

Is There Anything In It?

As Our Readers See It

BUTTLE CONTROVERSY

One-sided and distorted cries the most "impartial" of radio commentators Ralph Pashley, in criticizing the defenders of Buttle Lake, Strathcona Park. In his "impartial" way, Mr. Pashley does not appear to have said one word of good in favor of those who are trying so hard to preserve the natural beauties of our public parks. He is to be thanked for this unsolicited service, which well demonstrates how unbiased Mr. Pashley actually is.

Mr. Pashley, in his enthusiasm for the cause of the B.C. Power Commission, broadcast a statement which seemed to say that Buttle Lake would be forgotten within 25 years. I venture to predict that it may be Mr. Pashley and not Buttle Lake who will be forgotten.

BURY THE HATCHET

It is observed that George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, has demanded a review of the death sentence, later commuted to life imprisonment, imposed on German General Kurt Meyer.

To use a worn-out expression, I consider his use of the life of any individual as a "political football" shameful.

Mr. St. Laurent has brought to Canadian government a dignity that Mr. Drew would be well advised to adopt if possible.

Instead of stirring up old enmity, the representatives of the Canadian public should be striving to bring about peace of a truly lasting nature. The mothers of those Canadians who lost their lives would appreciate this, I feel sure, much more than the execution of Kurt Meyer.

CLARIFIES STATUS

I would be obliged if you kindly allow me to correct a statement issued in connection with the forthcoming symphony concert in December.

In your issue of Friday week the term Master of the King's Music was inadvertently coupled with my name. I would be glad of this opportunity of stating the facts.

I had the privilege of singing as a choir boy under Sir Walford Davies, Master of the King's Music, and later, as a student, was organist of the little Royal Chapel in Windsor Great Park. That has been the full extent of my Royal commitments.

CHARLES PALMER.

OVER AND OVER

Over and over again from platform and press, we have been told that the basic cause of the present inflation is too much money, too few goods, and that the only remedy is more production. The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports inventories up almost a billion dollars in the last year; automobiles, electrical goods and textiles. The Finan-

Coffee-Break

"Come and rest a while." Mark 6:31

"Let's go for coffee!" And we do that... Enjoy a pleasant little chat... About the news, ball games and jokes... Say "Hello" to a lot of folks... Then back again to the old treadmill... To tackle the job with refreshed will... There's nothing that will pick you up... Like brief recess, and steaming cup... Relax, "Take-ten," try to forsake... Your tension with a "Coffee-break."

More On War Criminals

By ANTHONY KOHOUT

THE brutalizing effect of two world wars has warped our minds, impaired our judgment and sense of justice to a point which brings us perilously near the cave man.

Such a state of mental confusion is illustrated in a news item from Windsor, Ont., which appeared in the Victoria Daily Times on Dec. 3. It gives the startling opinion of the prosecuting attorney by whose efforts the former German general Kurt Meyer had been safely put behind the bars of a Canadian prison for the rest of his life, a convicted war criminal.

But the learned counsellor has now seen a new light. Not based on law or any known prophets, but on what he terms "dealing realistically." Quoth he: Kurt Meyer should be freed from prison if the Canadian government is satisfied he would fight in a western European army. "Is not war itself an atrocity, a breeder of war criminals on both sides?"

BLUNT REALISM

Shades of Machiavelli, whose blunt realism has now been overshadowed by a comparatively unknown Ontario lawyer.

Over and over have we been assured during the war that the sole obstacle to lasting peace is German militarism. That by destroying the German military machine, hanging the German war criminals and, by re-educating the German people during a long military occupation in the ways of peace and democracy, peace would be with us for generations to come.

All these things we have done and more but still there is no peace. And this time it is our former comrade-in-arms Stalin who so valiantly fought for Christianity, for liberty and numerous other ideals, who, in that Communist obsession for planning, is already compiling a list of war criminals before the war has even started.

A tragic sidelight on war crimes may be found in Time magazine, of Nov. 22, wherein the massacre of over 10,000 Polish officers in the Katyn forests of Poland is reopened. It seems that a secret report implicating the Russians had been filed with the U.S. State Department in 1945 and has mysteriously disappeared.

The spectacle of the Soviet judges at Nuremberg sentencing Nazi generals to be hanged for crimes the Russians themselves have committed, must have given Vishinsky many a good laugh.

OTHER TRIUMPHS

But Stalin, with our assistance, achieved other triumphs which reports from Europe seldom mention. There are still some 10,000,000 refugees or expellees in the heart of Europe, embittered, cold and hungry—war criminals all. Their crime consists of being what is now known as "ethnic Germans," that is residents of the carved-up old Austro-Hungarian empire, whose mother tongue is German.

These people were the outposts of our civilization toward the Slavonic East. Driven from their homes by the ukase of Yalta and Potsdam, their formerly prosperous cities are now deserted, their farms uncultivated, desolation and misery are the new tenants behind the Iron Curtain.

Reports from sources behind the Curtain tell of tens of thousands of new settlers arriving there from Mongolia, a new experiment by Stalin in sociology.

Let's not dwell upon the evil and depressing past but with Christian confidence and hope we should face the future in a joyous mood and sing with Phyllis McGinley:

"Christ is come, the Light hath risen,
All our foes are safe in prison,
And the Christmide begets
Seven million bayonets."

Marxist War

Toronto Globe and Mail

Canadian trade unionists who preach class warfare may not know it, but they are propagating undiluted Communism in the worst or Marxian sense of that word. They are doing injury to Canada, a country as nearly classless as any in the world. They are betraying the trade union movement. What might interest them more, they are taking a politically unprofitable line.

Ups And Downs

By BRIAN TOBIN

"MOST FOLKS," said the Elevator Man, "are looking for direction these days. They go to some queer authorities to find it. Some consult star books, or tea leaves, or playing cards or sand tables. They figure such things can tell them what to do, and providing they want to hear they credit their tea leaves or the lines on the palms of their hands with having as much brains as they have. No doubt they're right. Then, of course, a lot of people look to themselves for guidance. They use their own experience or that of others, or depend on their own reasoning to point the way. If they're wrong, they use that as a lesson to help avoid the same mistake next time. It works, too, for a lot of them, and if it doesn't, they have only themselves to blame. That can be tough medicine to take, too. Going down!"

"Some," said the Elevator man, "seek spiritual guidance. They look to their religion to set up the direction signs for them. A large proportion of the worthwhile goals in life have been reached by this method. But even that can go wrong, if the directions aren't followed. Many an enquirer has got his advice and then vetoed it by putting his own judgment first. But he hasn't always been so ready to take the responsibility when his error came back on him. Lower main!"

"It often happens," said the Elevator Man, "that the advice is too drastic. It demands more faith than most folks can summon. Then they have to back down, like that fella in the story. It seems he used to open the Bible at random each day to see what a chance verse might yield. One day his eye lit on the words: 'Judas went out and hanged himself.' He figured he could find something a little more suitable, so he opened the book again and read, 'Go thou and do likewise.' That unnerved him still more, so he quickly parted the leaves again, and shuddered as he saw, 'What thou doest, do quickly.'"

U.S. Nips Red Chinese Racket

$10,000 Fine Plus 10-Year Imprisonment Will Be Levied On Payees Of 'Blackmail'

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (UP).—The government cracked down today on a multi-million dollar racket of the Chinese Communists by threatening Chinese-Americans with prosecution for "blackmail" payments.

Acting Secretary of the Treasury Edward H. Foley Jr. announced that any Chinese-American who sends ransom payments to protect relatives in China from Red torture will face federal prosecution under the "trading with the enemy act." The law provides for a $10,000 fine and 10 years in prison.

Foley said the treasury department felt it could use the threat of prosecution because it has "taken pains" to inform Chinese-Americans that payment of money or transfer of goods to a person in Red China violates the law.

He said "leading members of Chinese communities and Chinese benevolent associations" in this country have agreed that a united refusal to comply with the Red extortion demands is the only way to protect Chinese-Americans from the racket.

Foley said there would be no prosecutions of Chinese-Americans who already have been forced to pay a ransom.

Meantime, treasury agents on the west coast began surveys aimed at closing all possible channels for sending the "blackmail" payments. Investigators said that "certain known channels" in the San Francisco area already have been closed or will be closed in a few days.

Treasury officials said the west coast investigation will be broadened to include Chinese communities in Los Angeles, Calif., Seattle, Wash., and Portland, Ore., as well as Hawaii.

About 60 per cent of the Chinese in New York, Boston, Washington, Chicago and San Francisco have received letters and cablegrams from their families in China seeking money.

There are about 80,000 Chinese in this country.

The letters generally tell of a desperate need for American money because the family property has been confiscated or a member of the family arrested. Unless money is sent, the letters say, torture and death will follow.

Ransom demands for the "safety" of a relative usually run from $1,000 to $10,000. Payments in the New York area alone are reported to be more than $1,000,000 in the past two months, with other cities having large Chinese populations showing equally large payments.

Youthful Thai King Prisoner Of Government

BOMBAY, Dec. 10 (Reuters).—A Times of India correspondent reported Saturday that the Thai government has virtually locked up young King Phumiphon Aduldet in a move to crush opposition in the parliament.

The correspondent, S. Mulgaonkar, who left Thailand to file his story from Rangoon, Burma, represents the reported imprisonment of the king as a direct sequel to last month's sudden army coup d'etat.

It is the first full story of the rebellion to reach the outside world since the Thai government clamped down a strict censorship on the night of the coup Nov. 29.

Mulgaonkar said Phumiphon, 23, was a "doomed man" from the minute he set foot on Thai soil last Sunday—returning from Europe, against the known wishes of his mother, to rule Thailand for the first time since his succession in 1946.

Describing the revolt, Mulgaonkar said there had been "considerable opposition" to government policies in the upper house of parliament, led by associates of the exiled former premier Pridi Pradit Manu-Harm.

Manudharm, first premier after the war, opposed the policies of the present Premier Pibul Songgram which in 1941 led Thailand into the war on Japan's side. He later fled the country.

"Factually, there is no coup in the sense of a shift of power," Mulgaonkar said. "If at all a coup, it has been directed against the opposition. The administration has suppressed the opposition."

WEATHER SYNOPSIS

VICTORIA'S SUNSHINE RECORD TO DATE, 1951—2,495.5 HOURS

SYNOPSIS: Mild Pacific air moving across the coast brought cloudy skies and warmer temperatures to B.C. overnight. At Sandspit on the east coast of the Queen Charlotte group, the temperature has risen to 52 degrees as the Pacific air pushed eastward, while overnight temperatures in the Interior dropped only into the 20's.

Rain and drizzle fell over all of the coast, while snow occurred at most Interior points. At some western Interior points the snow had given way to light rain by daybreak as surface temperatures climbed.

There is no indication of marked change in this pattern and cloudy and milder weather is forecast for nearly all regions of B.C. both for today and Tuesday.

REGIONAL FORECASTS VALID UNTIL MIDNIGHT TUESDAY

VICTORIA: Mostly overcast Tuesday. A little milder tonight. Winds light. Low tonight and high Tuesday, 45 and 48.

VANCOUVER AND GEORGIA STRAIT: Mostly overcast Tuesday. Light drizzle Tuesday morning. A little milder. Winds light. Low tonight and high Tuesday at Vancouver Airport, Abbotsford and Nanaimo, 46 and 49.

BID FOR SCIENTISTS

Research Council Offers 40 Post-Grad Fellowships

OTTAWA, Dec. 10 (BUP).—The National Research Council is offering 40 post-doctorate fellowships today to attract young scientists from all parts of the world to work for Canada.

The fellowships, which will be awarded for work with the council in 1952-53, will pay $2,820 per year for single winners, and $3,300 for married men. The awards are tax free, and award winners from abroad will be paid travel grants to Canada.

N.R.C. said that about 20 fellowships were being offered in pure chemistry and 14 in physics. The council said applications should be made by Feb. 15, 1952, and successful candidates would be notified early in May. Most of the winners would take up their work in fall, N.R.C. said.

Mount Hope Man Relieves Backache and Constipation

—Is delighted to discover in Sarnak a remedy that is pleasant to take, gentle acting, yet so effective it relieved a chronic condition which other remedies had failed to help!

Trouble comes double, for many a man and woman! And that's why Sarnak has been of help to so many. For it is a new formula, a combination of medical ingredients never before offered in one medicine.

In the case of Mr. Paul R. Beamer, Mount Hope, Ontario, it exactly met his needs. For he writes:

"I think Sarnak is wonderful. I tried many remedies to get relief from constipation and constant backache, but nothing seemed to help me."

"I started taking Sarnak and was pleased at how soon it relieved my backache and started to make me regular. Sarnak is not disagreeable to take, and its effect on the bowels is mild and gentle."

Are you one of the people like Mr. Beamer who suffer from more than one complaint? Is your life made miserable by backache, rheu-

First Since Nippon Went To War N.Y.K. Cargo Carrier Calls Here

A spanking new cargo ship, with handsome lines put a new entry in Victoria's marine record book Sunday.

Ms. Aso Maru called at Ogden Point on her way from Vancouver to Seattle. She is the first Japanese vessel to visit here since the start of World War II.

The ship unloaded several thousand crates of mandarin oranges, "Japanese brides," the captain called them.

Capt. E. Murakami explained the name "bride" was given the oranges many years ago in Vancouver. It was at a time when Japanese immigration to Canada was heavy and nearly every liner from the east brought its share of Japanese girls.

A newspaper reported 100,000 new brides were coming across the ocean.

"A big sensation whirled up among the citizens of Vancouver," the captain reported. "But when the ship was along side of the pier, they were astonished to find so many thousands of Japanese mandarines on the ship instead of Japanese ladies."

The Aso Maru is proof of Japanese skill and ingenuity. The vessel took only 10 months to build. She was completed Nov. 9 at Nagasaki.

She is 495 feet in length, 62 feet wide and has a 34-foot depth. Her gross tonnage is 7,576 tons. Her dead weight tonnage is 9,794 tons. Her three cabins provide accommodation for nine persons. She carries 21 officers and 41 crewmen.

With a service speed of 17 knots, the vessel made the crossing from Shimizu to Vancouver in 11 days. She ship was overtaken by two cyclones on the way.

The Aso Maru carried 3,163 tons of cargo to this continent—most of it for Vancouver. She will load coal in Seattle to take back to Japan.

Owned by Nippon Yusen Kaisha, Tokyo, the ship derives its name from Mount Aso, one of the world's largest volcanoes, situated in the middle of the Island of Kyushu.

PROFIT MOTIVE OUT OF HAND IN UKRAINE

MOSCOW, Dec. 10 (AP)—Izvestia has decided that the profit motive is getting out of hand in the Ukraine.

The volunteer fire department at Lutsk is engaged not so much in putting out fires as in carrying out repair and construction work for profit.

The Beekeepers' Voluntary Society of Kherson has only 11 hives and produced only 60 kilograms (132 pounds) of honey this year, but managed to run up net profits of nearly 100,000 rubles ($25,000 at the official rate) by speculating.

Gigantic Political Trials Imminent

Polish, Czechoslovakian Communist Regimes Plan Courts Comparable To Moscow Purges

LONDON, Dec. 10 (BUP)—The Polish and Czechoslovakian Communist regimes are preparing a series of gigantic political trials comparable in importance with the famous Moscow trials and purges in the late 1930's, informed sources said today.

A former prime minister, two deputy premiers, a marshal of Poland, several generals and ministers as well as other Polish and Czech government and party officials, now under arrest on charges of espionage and anti-state activities, are expected to appear at these trials.

According to unofficial reports from Warsaw, Edward Osobka-Morawski, prime minister of Poland from 1945 to 1947, and Michael Rola-Zymierski, marshal of Poland and commander-in-chief of the Polish army until November, 1949, have been arrested and are expected to be tried shortly.

Warsaw officially announced a month ago the arrest and impending trial of Wladyslaw Gomulka, former deputy premier and secretary-general of the Polish Communist party from 1944 to 1948, and Gen. Marian Spychalski, a former deputy minister of national defense.

In Czechoslovakia, the recent official announcement of the arrest of Rudolf Slansky, vice-premier and until three months ago secretary-general of the Czechoslovakian Communist party, added another name to the long list of Czechoslovak party and government bosses arrested in February this year and late last year.

The most prominent among these were Dr. Vladimir Clementis, minister of foreign affairs; Maria Sveranova, assistant secretary-general of the party; Josef Smrkovsky, minister of agriculture; Otto Sling, party secretary for the Brno region; Deputy Defense Minister Bedrich Reicin and Deputy Foreign Ministers Arthur London and Vavro Hedju.

The mounting wave of arrests in Moscow's two main satellite countries have given rise to widespread speculation as to their significance and any possible connection between them.

Minister Praises Product Of B.C. Bulb Growers

B.C. Bulb Growers' Federation, at annual meeting here, heard Finance Minister Anscomb describe B.C. bulbs as far ahead of Dutch varieties. Some of 80 delegates

Reds Maintain Huge Armed Force In Rumania, Hungary

PARIS, Dec. 10 (UP)—A high Balkan source disclosed today that Soviet Russia maintains 100,000 men in Rumania and Hungary, including motorized and air force divisions.

The Soviet also maintains 60,000 men in Austria, equally equipped with armor and planes. The bulk of these forces were said to be deployed along the frontiers with Yugoslavia.

This powerful, purely Soviet force is entirely separate of the nearly 1,000,000 man armies and security forces which the satellite states of Bulgaria, Hungary and Rumania are maintaining at present in their respective countries, the source said.

Details of Soviet military strength in southeastern Europe showed the following developments, the source said:

In Hungary, the total Soviet forces were said to figure between 50,000 and 55,000 men. In Rumania, the Soviets maintain between 40,000 and 45,000 men in four divisions, the source said.

In Austria, the Soviets were reported to have some 60,000 men.

The total strength of Soviet air forces in Austria were said to amount to 420 planes.

Three Drowned In Car Crash

PORT COULOGNE, Que., Dec. 10 (CP)—Three persons were drowned but a fourth escaped Saturday night when an automobile left the highway two miles west of here and plunged into the Coulogne River.

Drowned were Doreen Miron, 23, Melvin Levine, 26 and Bertin Leguerier, 22, all of this town 55 miles west of Hull, Que.

The 19-year-old driver of the car, Lillian Marion of Bryson, Que., escaped. She squeezed out of a buckled door as the car plunged into the river and settled upside down in about 15 feet of water 20 feet from shore.

Sport Week

By JOHN LARDNER

It was noticeable last week that the St. Louis Browns, the ball club that replaced the Model-T Ford in Joe Miller's joke book, are now in the hands of restless people. William (Hard-Weed) Bill Vecek, the new owner, and Rogers Hornsby, the new manager, began trading players all over the landscape.

What they got in return, as far as could be seen, was eight or 10 guys named Oscar.

But there may be more in the manoeuvres than meets the eye. This Vecek, for instance, is a devilishly clever chap. Knowing the Browns of 1951, it would seem that his plan is to adulterate, or Brownize the rest of the American League by injecting his rivals with Browns.

In fact, he admits it. Speaking at a dinner a few days ago—no dinner this fall has been complete without shrimp cocktails and a speech by Vecek—he said, as his face became distorted with cunning: "I'm going to get two Browns on each team and really louse up the league."

That's a fine idea. Nothing like it, in the nationwide scale, has been heard of since Prohibition. But what of the incoming Browns, the ones St. Louis is acquiring in exchange for this poisoned bread on the water? Has Vecek any assurance that the new Browns will be different from the old Browns?

"Well, yes."

He has the assurance of Mr. Hornsby, his manager, who speaks his mind during pauses by Vecek, or, when he needs more room than that, as who doesn't, goes off to some other town and speaks simultaneously with Vecek.

What Strategy—Using Real Ball Players

The Rajah was saying the other day that part of his plan for dredging up the team from the river bed has already been achieved. Among those eight or 10 new hands named Oscar, he revealed, are some real ballplayers, disguised as minor leaguers. There were four secret weapons, called Rivera, Schmees, Courtney, and Thomas, whom he especially wanted to lay hold of, and now he has them all.

About one of them, a mobile outfielder named Manuel Joseph Rivera, of Portuguese-Italian-Puerto Rican descent, known to the boys as Jim, Mr. Hornsby barks like a bird dog.

"Rivera," he says, "is the only ballplayer I know of that I would pay $2 for a box seat just to sit and watch."

Hornsby is famous as an expert, not only on ballplayers, but on what to do with $2 (there is a window at the race track that handles cabbage cut that way), so his words are full of weight. They are always full of weight, in spite of the fact that he seldom weighs them in advance.

The Day The Rajah Met The Judge

It is not too well known, but it is undoubtedly true, that what got him on the wrong side of the books of the late Judge Landis, the second-to-last high commissioner, was not simply that Hornsby bet money on horses, but that he pointed out to the judge a flaw in the judge's argument against that hobby.

"I bet on horses," said Hornsby to the commissioner, in effect, "and your office has put baseball's money into stocks, with the idea of increasing it—though I hear it did not work out quite that way. What is the difference between us?"

On Judge Landis, this honest question had the same effect as oil cast on a brush fire. He told Hornsby at once that one difference between them was that he, the judge, was likely to go on holding his job. It was a tribute to Hornsby's fame as a hitter and a field leader that he managed to hang on in baseball, most years, in spite of Landis' disapproval of him.

You Can't Buy Steaks With Baseballs

It's a pleasure to have this plain speaker back in the big leagues again, though, considering that the Rajah is managing the Browns, it's hard to say how long the pleasure will be mutual.

Apart from secret weapons that may or may not go off when fired, the Browns have one asset—Ned Garver, the all-American boy, who can pitch, hit, field, run, and write letters to Congress. Here is one Brown that every team in the league would love to be contaminated by.

"We'll unload Garver, but not for money," says Hornsby forthrightly. "You can't throw $100 bills from the mound."

True. But you can fold and put them away, which, as Hornsby should know, is an old Brown weakness.

Martin Waits To Last Before Pulling Upset

There's nothing like waiting until the final minute to topple the apple cart.

Vince Martin proved this Saturday night as he won the Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club's men badminton championship with a straight-set, 15-8, 11-5, 12-10 victory over heavily favored Jim Wells.

Given little chance against Wells, tournament runner-up for the past three years, Martin was the complete master in the tourney's one and only startling upset.

The women's title went to Clare King with a three-set triumph over Libby Boak, 11-7, 8-11, 11-5. Geoff Conway took the junior boys' crown by trimming Richard Pollard, 15-9, 15-12.

Stan Richard and Hugh Francis retained their men's doubles title with a 15-11, 15-7 victory over Norm Lambbrick and Stu Reid, while women's doubles honors went to the favored pair,

Bill Off To Good Start

Rangers Clobber Leafs; Habs Lose Pair To Wings

By CANADIAN PRESS

It was like old times at New York's Madison Square Gardens last night.

Bill Cook, the old Ranger terror, was back on the bench—this time in multi; the Blueshirts clobbered Toronto Maple Leafs 7-2 in their snazzy scoring spree in a couple of years, and 12,683 hockey-happy fans, one of the largest National League gatherings in the Gardens this year, enjoyed every minute of it.

The Ranger victory convinced the critics that this season's edition of the Rangers belong up there with the pros, although it was only their seventh victory in 24 games.

It was Bill's first return to his old stamping grounds since the one-time great Ranger right-winger hung up his gear in the 1935-36 season. He returned as coach and if Rangers continue to produce anything of the class they showed last night he needn't worry about developing ulcers or being put on a milk diet.

Cook took over from Neil Colville who resigned last week and the Blueshirts rose to the heights. They led 1-0 at the end of the first period, poured four more goals behind Toronto goalkeeper Al Rollins in the second and matched the Leafs' two-goal effort in the final stanza.

RALEIGH STARS

Don (Bones) Raleigh was the individual star with four assists. Gaye Stewart, finding his scoring eye after a long drought, notched two and assisted on another by Ed Slowinski. Other Ranger marksmen were Reg Sinclair, Edgar LaPrade, Hymie Buller and Wally Hergesheimer.

A crowd of 12,683 saw Detroit come from behind a 2-0 first-period deficit to take the points.

It was the most one-sided decision of week-end activity on the N.H.L. front. Detroit Red Wings, who have Montreal Canadiens' number this season after Canadiens eliminated them in the play-offs last spring, came up with a pair of victories over Dick Irvin's club, 3-0, at Montreal Saturday and 3-2 at home Sunday.

Chicago held its fifth position, one point ahead of Rangers, with a week-end split. The Hawks lost 3-1 to the Leafs at Toronto Saturday and followed with a close 4-3 victory over the third-place Boston Bruins Sunday.

Charlie Chaplin Makes Film After Four-Year Holiday

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 10 (AP)—Charlie Chaplin has embarked on his eighth starring feature film in almost 40 years of making movie history. It is his second picture without his traditional tramp costume.

Rarely has the English-born comic permitted any outsiders to observe him during the production of one of his movies. But he has mellowed in recent years. I was allowed to visit the set of his new film "Limelight."

Asked if he was glad to be back to work after a four-year absence, Chaplin grinned: "Not exactly. I work like the devil when I'm on a picture. After I get one started, I wonder why I undertake so much work."

NO TRAMP
"Are you using the tramp character in this one?"
"No," he replied.
"Do you think you ever will again?"

"I don't think so," he said. "But then, you never can tell." Chaplin abandoned his tramp character in one other picture—"Monsieur Verdoux."

Unlike the talky "Monsieur Verdoux," "Limelight" will carry no message (except the underlying human theme—that marks all Chaplin films). The new picture is the story of an English music-hall comedian who has seen better days. He befriends a destitute ballet dancer, played by Claire Bloom, who was discovered in a London musical.

The girl's career rises as the comic's descends. The situation is reversed and she must keep up her morale, even though she is in love with a younger man, played by Sydney Chaplin, Charlie's son.

Wages' Trend Release Urged
The relative rise and fall in wages should be included in the Dominion cost-of-living index distributed monthly by the provincial department of trade and industry, according to Maj. H. C. Holmes, Victoria business man.

In a letter to G. T. Hatcher of the bureau of economics and statistics, Maj. Holmes said:

"I find the general impression that prices have increased more than wages. I have seen that is not the case. It is a pity the whole truth should not be known."

"It may not be possible to give the average wage index each month but it is certainly available at least once a year, if not more often."

German Artist With Symphony Tuesday Night

Four featured musicians will appear with the Victoria Symphony Orchestra Tuesday night at the Royal Theatre.

Hans Stelzner, well-known French horn player recently arrived from Germany, will take the solo part in Mozart's Concerto in E Flat, while a trio will be featured in the second half of the program and will play Beethoven's concerto for piano, cello, violin and orchestra in C major, Opus 56.

The piano solo will be taken by Charles Palmer, the cello by Mary Hammond and the violin by concert master Clifford Evans. Palmer, M.A., A.R.C.M., pianist and organist, was choirmaster under Sir Walford Davis, master of the King's Music at St. George's Chapel, Windsor Castle, from 1927-30.

Frank Carr Heads Employees Of B.C.

British Columbia Government Employees' Association (T.L.C.) has elected Frank Carr, chief postal clerk, to head its organization for the ensuing year. J. A. Ingram was returned as vice-president by acclamation. G. Spring was re-elected treasurer.

Arion Male Choir Will Sing With Talented Guest Artists

Peter Copeland, newly appointed director of the Arion Male-Voice Choir, will make his first Victoria public appearance Wednesday evening when the choir will present a varied musical program at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of the S. J. Willis Junior High School.

This school's newly formed P.T.A. is sponsoring the concert and the proceeds will be used to further the work both of this group and the Arion Choir. Tickets can be obtained at the door.

Choir singing, solos, elocution and instrumental items comprise the program.

Among the guest artists are the following: Billy Hastings, boy soprano; Miss Vivian Temple, pianist; Miss Lorraine Hemming, contralto; Dr. George Green, cornetist; Miss Marjorie Gilbert, elocutionist, and George S. Scott, violinist.

Choir accompanist Mrs. Helen McVie will be assisted by visiting accompanist Mrs. George Green and C. Bradley.

Garson Prepared To Ask Parliament To Slap $25,000 Fine On All Guilty Manufacturers

Resale price maintenance is the practise of which manufacturers and distributors either tell or suggest to retailers the price at which their goods should be sold to the public. Price maintenance is practised mostly by manufacturers of nationally-advertised branded goods, to enable a standard price to be advertised and used throughout the country. Outlawing the practise was one

A proposed bill recommended by the committee would be directed against the dealer, which is defined as a "person engaged in the business of manufacturing or supplying or selling any article or commodity."

Under the new bill, "no dealer shall directly or indirectly by agreement, threat, promise or any other means whatsoever, require or induce or attempt to require or induce any other person to sell an article or commodity at a price specified by the dealer or established by agreement."

The council has before it a consulting engineer's report on the Skinner's flat problem and the improvement of the sewage system there is a matter of necessity from a health point of view, Wurtle declares.

"The council, I think, can take some credit as a body for obtaining the federal grant," Wurtle said.

"More revenue should be sought from fair and just trades licenses and from dog tax. A study of trials and methods elsewhere should be made."

He wants to see a revived inter-municipal committee, a study of bus routes with a view to practical change, and reorganization in the municipal offices to promote efficiency.

Chief Blackstock Denies Clash

Police Make No Complaints Against New Prosecutor; No Further Word On Letter

There has been no clash between J. J. Proudfoot, newly-appointed city prosecutor, and members of the Victoria police force.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

An errant mass of warm tropical air now crossing the coast at upper levels will bring cloud, fog, some drizzle and generally milder temperatures tonight and Tuesday, weatherman William Mackie said today.

The warm air has brought near-record temperatures for this time of year to the Queen Charlotte Islands, Mackie said.

The government lighthouse tender Estevan was scheduled back in Victoria this afternoon after three weeks up-coast, during which her routine was badly broken by storms.

The vessel Sunday night reported her position off Creek Point, near Powell River.

On receipt of word that 107 packages of clothing were en route from Victoria for Jamaica hurricane victims, Mayor Ken Hill of Kingston and St. Andrew Corporation, wrote a letter of thanks which reached Mayor Percy George's office today.

C. L. Harrison, former city prosecutor and candidate for Victoria's mayoralty, will speak Tuesday at 8 in Longhead's Banquet Club, 1486 Douglas.

Donald Anderson, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will chairmen the meeting.

On the platform with Harrison will be Brent Murdoch, police commissioner and aldermanic candidate, and John A. McLellan, ex-police chief and candidate for alderman.

Ald. James E. Neely was sworn into office at a ceremony in City Council chamber today.

Frank Hunter, city clerk, conducted the swearing-in for Neely, who was elected by acclamation Dec. 6 to fill out the unexpired term of Aubrey Kent.

In welcoming him to the "civic family," Acting Mayor Frank Mulliner said: "For every word of commendation you will get 10 of criticism." Neely said he realized the importance of the position and would do his best to discharge his duties faithfully.

Seventeen thousand sets of ballots are now at City Hall ready for Thursday's civic election. About 100 men have been hired as poll clerks at the 20 polling divisions in the central polling station at public market.

BLAME CLOSURE

Bins Empty; Huge Demand For Sawdust

Hardship caused by the 10-week forest closure last summer continues.

The newest victims are sawdust consumers, who are now on short rations.

"There is just as much sawdust being produced now as at any time of the year," one mill man said today, "but too many people want it."

Almost every sawdust firm in the city is back-ordered to the middle of January. Most reported the customers who stock up during the summer months were unable to do so this year because of decreased mill production.

A survey of mills revealed that most will be operating through the winter and that a constant, though insufficient supply of sawdust will be assured.

"People are running out every day," a dealer reported.

NO OUT

"If it turns cold there will be desperate meetings with the mayor and we won't be able to do a thing about it," another said. "The only way to meet the situation is to stock up in the spring and summer. But we usually can't give sawdust away then."

Coal dealers suggested that householders might procure their winter stocks while supplies and transport from the Alberta coal fields are good. Later, they said, transportation tie-ups might affect shipments to Victoria.

Oils and solid-wood fuel are in good supply and offer no problems, dealers said.

This was the assertion of Police Chief John Blackstock, following disclosure by The Times on Saturday that Proudfoot had offered his resignation in a letter to the police chief if certain criticisms were substantiated.

The criticisms apparently stem from the fact that charges have been laid by police officials without the prior knowledge of the prosecutor.

"But there has been no clash between the police and the prosecutor as far as I am concerned," said Blackstock.

NO COMPLAINTS

"There may be a few who do not like his system. With a new prosecutor things are bound to be changed. But no one has ever complained to me. No policeman has ever complained to me," the chief of police maintained.

Whether or not the reported letter of proffered resignation, from Proudfoot to the police chief, has been received is a matter officials do not discuss.

Chief Blackstock insists, however, that "everything is running smoothly at the station."

Proudfoot, reported confined to his home with illness, could not be reached for comment.

NOT SEEN LETTER

Brent Murdoch, police commissioner, has no first hand knowledge of the letter. "I have not seen it," he said.

However, he explained any letter of this nature would be addressed in all probability to the police commission chairman, Mayor Percy George. Mayor George is on his way home from Ottawa.

"I'd like to make it clear that Proudfoot has sent a number of letters to the commission offering certain suggestions," Murdoch added.

Heavy Polling Marks Calgary Federal Vote

CALGARY, Dec. 10 (CP).—Polling stations did a rush business in the first few hours of today's federal by-election in Calgary West constituency.

Voting was reported brisk throughout the riding, which also takes in Banff and Cochrane to the west.

Approximately 200 of the 1,500 eligible voters in Banff registered their vote in the first one and a half hours. At Cochrane, a Social Credit stronghold in the past, some 45 of 619 qualified electors visited the polls in the first two hours.

The weather was mild and sunny... a high of 45 degrees was forecast. All country roads in the riding were in good shape.

In the last vote in Calgary West—the 1949 general election—27,054 of the 38,231 eligible voters cast ballots.

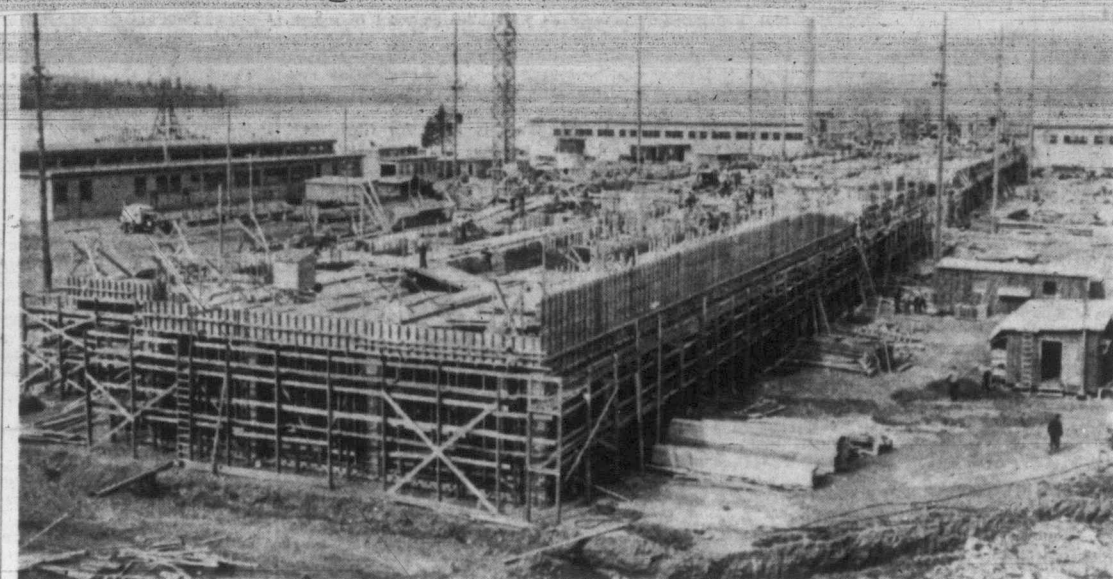

Keel For Another Navy Sub-Chaser Will Be Laid Tuesday In B.C. Yard

Canadian naval planners concerned with building up the fleet will be putting another tie on their calendars.

Tuesday afternoon in Vancouver, the keel will be laid for another of 14 anti-submarine escort vessels which the R.C.N. intends to build. The keel, to be laid at Burrard Drydock Company's North Vancouver plant, will be the sixth put down by shipyards in various parts of the country.

It will be the second for the Burrard Company, which has the hull of its first vessel nearly completed.

Mrs. S. S. McKeen, wife of Senator McKeen, will sponsor the new ship. The ceremony will be witnessed by Lieutenant

Big Vancouver Island Newsprint Plant Taking Shape

Manufacture of newsprint will be added to growing list of Vancouver Island industries when this new mill goes into production early next summer. Mill is being built by Elk Falls Co. at Duncan Bay, two miles north of Campbell River. Elk Falls Co. is controlled by Canadian Western Lumber and Pacific Mills Ltd. C.W.L. president

H. J. Mackin says plant may be extended by adding second mill for production of unbleached sulphate pulp. Picture shows development of main paper mill with warehouses and stores in background. It is expected newsprint mill will be ready by June. (Baldwin Studio photo)

Beer Vending Taps Storage Nears Normal

Business as usual was the order of the day in most licensed premises and private clubs in and around Victoria today.

Beer held in storage for the last seven weeks was being moved. An official of Victoria Phoenix Brewery reported all of its 70 employees back on the job, busier than usual trying to fill many back orders.

Only beer parlor open Saturday was Gorge Hotel, Tillicum Road. It had 70 kegs of beer in cold storage which arrived here from the mainland the day after the brewery strike began.

The tavern filled up early in the evening and many people were turned away before the night was out.

Beer from the brewery was trucked to other parlors today. Operators said they felt the supply from now on would be adequate to keep them going without a further closure.

A limited amount of bottled beer was made available, too, to government liquor stores, although a brewery spokesman conceded the stores might not be able to get all they wanted immediately.

HIGHER PRICE?

One serious aspect of the beer situation now is the price. Higher prices have been forecast several different sources because of the 27.2 cent-an-hour increase won by the 430 brewery workers who were on strike. The higher wage scale, it has been estimated, will cost the brewers close to $250,000 a year.

French people and friends of France in Victoria are invited to a dance sponsored by La Librerie Francaise at the Aberdeen Hotel, 941 McClure Street, on Wednesday night.

Object of the dance is to bring together people interested in France and its culture.

'BOSS' JOHNSON'S BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY OF LEADERSHIP

Premier Byron Johnson is 61 today.

The silver-haired government leader marks his birthday in Ottawa—working for British Columbia.

The Premier is in the east for Board of Transport Commissioners' hearing on Trans-Mountain Oil Pipe Line Company's application to build an Alberta-B.C. pipeline. B.C. is throwing its weight behind Trans-Mountain's application.

Today also is another anniversary for Premier Byron Johnson—the fourth since he was elected Liberal party leader.

DINNER MARKS THE DATE

Salt Spring Throws Party When Island Throws Switch

Salt Spring Island will turn on its first street lighting system Tuesday night.

Installed by the B.C. Power Commission, the system will include 18 200-watt multiple lighting units at Ganges, six at Fulford Harbor and six at Vesuvius Bay.

The Salt Spring Island Chamber of Commerce was instrumental in securing the contract with the commission and the occasion will be marked by a dinner at night at Harbor House Hotel, attended by members of the chamber and commission.

Those present will include Lieut. Col. Desmond Crofton, president of the Salt Spring Island Chamber of Commerce; Miles Acheson, secretary; J. Foubister, chairman of the chamber's street lighting committee and Nanaimo-Duncan Power Commission representatives C. W. Nash, district manager, L. E. Wight, assistant manager and other commission members.

GORGE CRASH VICTIM 'POOR'; CHARGE DRIVER

Involved in a two-car crash on Gorge Road last Friday, Leslie Marlow, 22, of 1303 Yates, appeared in Saanich police court today charged with dangerous driving.

He was remanded for two weeks without plea.

Meanwhile, Jubilee Hospital authorities reported that Mrs. Jane Taylor, 70, of White Street, Ladysmith, one of the injured in the collision, is in "poor condition."

In addition of facial cuts, it is understood Mrs. Taylor suffered several fractures.

The accident—a near head-on case—took place on the hilly curve just beyond Harriet going out of town.

Marlow, Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Christine Harris, also of Ladysmith, were injured in the crash.

Ultimatum On Smoke Menace

Co-Operation Sought But Action Certain

Co-operation from offending plants will be asked by city following receipt today of a detailed report on smoke density.

Acting-Mayor Frank Mulliner, chairman of the city council's legislative committee which considered the report, said action would be taken to reduce the nuisance "if co-operation is not forthcoming."

"When offenders realized to what extent their plants are contributing to smoke nuisance, we hope they will wish to show co-operation," Mulliner said, as he lauded the report as "a very good one."

A survey of 42 smokestacks in the city was made by William Jorgenson of the city building inspector's office, from Nov. 13 to Nov. 27.

"It was noted that smoke seriously affects visibility," he said. Density of smoke ranged from a low of .11 per cent for an enamel heating plant on Pembroke to 41 per cent for Horton's Shingle Mill on Tye Road.

B.C. Forest Products showed 39 per cent; McCarter Shingle Mill, 37; Crowe-Gonnason, 30.5 per cent.

"Major producers of smoke were found to be manufacturing plants connected with the lumber industry," Jorgenson reported. "Intermittent periods of production of dense smoke were noted in normal operation of a variety of premises, including light industrial plants, large heating plants, ships in harbor and incinerators."

Object of the survey was to identify chief smoke stacks; observe emission of smoke and make comparison.

Smoke density was judged by eye by degree of blackness. In accordance with common practise degree of density was based on gradings of the Ringleman chart, Jorgenson said.

"At times wind-borne smoke was seen to blanket an area along Bay Street and over the water above Johnson Street bridge," he reported. "Morning mists in these areas were aggravated by addition of smoke."

Acting-Mayor Frank Mulliner
... "co-operation or else ..."

P.G.E. Bridge To Terminus Now Complete

Completion of the high level bridge over Cottonwood River—the greatest single obstacle in plans to take the Pacific Great Eastern Railway from Quesnel to Prince George—was scheduled to be completed last Saturday.

J. M. Stewart, chief engineer of the P.G.E., said today he hadn't received official notification that the job was completed Saturday, but he expected it had been.

Engineers are aiming at running the first train into Prince George by the end of May. The spring weather is the controlling factor. Poor weather conditions may result in the line not being finished until June, he said.

Since early in the century engineers have been searching for a route from Quesnel to Prince George which would provide a practical crossing over Cottonwood Canyon. It wasn't until 1931 that the present route was discovered.

The Cottonwood Bridge is 1,023 feet long, and is 230 feet above the river's water level. The steel span was started in July, 1950.

SHOPPING GUIDE

That 'Poor' Hound Is On The Gift List This Year

By PENNY SAVER

Good grief! Everybody is getting in the act this year! I went into a store the other day—quite innocently—and asked rather casually, "What have you that would make a nice little gift for a dog?"

It was a stupid question in the first place I must admit, but the string of suggestions that I got in return nearly floored me.

I never dreamt that people were so interested in animals that a man in this city could make any money selling gifts for them.

Evidently some of these four-legged creatures are better off than the two-legged ones.

To get back to the answer to my first question.

The very efficient shop-keeper took a deep breath then started, "We have plain bones, rubber bones, rubber balls, squeaking mice, dog candies, dog cookies, flea powder, collars, leashes—(here he paused for another breath and I grabbed the opportunity to ask another question).

"What have you under a dollar?"

This was fatal, we went through practically the whole list over again—with a few additions besides.

But to get right down to it probably the most original and inexpensive suggestion was a stocking full of "goodies" for the little mutt.

The start at 65 pennies and go up to 95 cents.

The stocking itself is one of these mesh affairs and is simply crammed full of the previously mentioned "candies, cookies, a squeaky mouse, a bone, and conditioning powder." Maybe they have sneaked in a few other things, I didn't pull it apart to see. At any rate it is a bargain.

Harness, collars and leashes were all prices and what is nice too, in several colors.

Does your pooch have a bed? If he doesn't you can get a really attractive wicker one, padded, and nicely shaped, for a little over $3.

If you look around you will be as amazed as I was to find such a wide variety of Christmas gifts for your dog.

You Can't Go Wrong With Wool For The Holiday

By DAWN VAN NORMAN

Wool plays many roles in your life—from keeping you snugly warm when bustling around doing that all-important Christmas shopping to looking at ease and suitably dressed at an important social function or business meeting.

Remember, too, that wool is your all-season friend, but with the turn of the season when the air has a new snap and ginger in it, and both days and nights are crisp and cool, we appreciate snuggling into wonderfully warm wool even more.

It's wonderful to slip again into comfortable sweaters, skirts and jackets, so bright and toasty warm. Give some careful planning to your winter wardrobe before you come to the actual selection. No doubt you have already purchased your basic needs for winter, but when you get a few pennies together for those extras, then is the time to not get off the beaten track and select something that doesn't fit in with your wardrobe.

You'll love the shaggy wool coatings currently being shown. They have a look of depth and richness yet are not heavy and uncomfortable. The stylings, too, are truly eye-catching.

Dresses and suits are also given a new and interesting treatment in both color and texture as well as design.

Anyone with the least flare for style will have no trouble finding a really smart wool dress to tide them over the approaching holiday season.

It can be worn with comfort and there is nothing in the world as wonderful as wool to match up. If you are short of the pennies to buy new accessories your dress will look equally as new and attractive with what you already have.

Wool is ideal for Christmas!

Blanche Dent And Charles Wright Wed In A Floral Setting, Saturday

Centennial United Church was decorated with bronze and white chrysanthemums, Saturday evening, for the marriage of Blanche Dent and Charles Wright. Rev. W. R. Ashford officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Dent, Whittier Avenue, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Wright, Brooks, Alta.

Oliver Stout played organ music and Mrs. Norman Duckworth sang "A Day of Golden Promise."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white sheer gown over taffeta, with long sleeves and full skirt, featuring silver and gold embroidery at the high neckline and in a wide girdle-effect at the waist. Her chapel veil of silk net with embroidered border, was caught to a coronet of pearls and lily of the valley. Rhinestones gleamed at her ear lobes. Deep red roses and white feathered mums in the bride's colonial bouquet formed a color contrast.

Miss Myrtle Dent, her sister's only attendant, chose a pale orchid gown of nylon net over taffeta styled with sweetheart neck and puff sleeves; she had a bandeau of orchid velvet flowers with shoulder veil and carried colonial bouquet of gold and mauve mums.

The best man was Mr. Ralph

Dent, brother of the bride, and ushers were two other brothers, Mr. Norman and Mr. Albert Dent.

The reception was held at Orange Hall. The lace-covered table decorated with mums and lighted candles in silver holders, was centred with the three-tiered cake. The toast was given by Mr. Frank Hall. For a motor trip through Washington and on to Brooks, Alta., where they will make their home, the bride changed to a wine light-weight wool dress with cinnamon brown topcoat, dark brown accessories and white feathered mums en corsage.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Holiday Fruit Bread

One cup scalded milk ½ cup shortening, ½ cup sugar, 1½ teaspoons salt, 1 cup corn meal, 2 packages dry granular or compressed yeast, ½ cup lukewarm water, 2 eggs, beaten, 1 cup candied cherries, 1 cup mixed candied fruits, ½ cup finely chopped nuts, ¼ teaspoon mace, 3 cups sifted enriched flour.

Combine scalded milk, shortening, sugar and salt; add corn meal and stir until well blended; cool to lukewarm. Add yeast dissolved in the lukewarm water. Stir in eggs. Add fruit, nuts and mace to flour, then combine with rest of ingredients. Beat well. Pour into two greased quart molds or baking pans. Cover and let rise in warm place (85 deg. F.) for 40 to 50 minutes. Bake in hot oven (425 deg. F.) for 10 minutes; reduce heat to 350 deg. F., and bake 30 minutes—longer. Let stand 5 minutes; turn out of pan on a rack to cool. Glaze while hot with confectioners' sugar frosting. Makes two loaves.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

'Police Thought I Was 15'; Reader Blames Exercise

I know that a lot of "Why Grow Old?" readers have become more beautiful and are becoming lovelier every day. But I did not know until recently that self-improvement under my direction has led to false arrest. This just came in the mail.

"Dear Mrs. Lowman: I have been reading your column for 15 years and have done practically every exercise you have ever printed. I do 26 routine exercises every day. I also rhumba. I am 47 years old and five feet of strength and youth vitality.

"I thank you and blame you because not long ago I was walking alone on the street at midnight, when two policemen who didn't know me, arrested me for a juvenile. They thought I was 15 years old. It is your fault and mine."

I think it was worth it! Most women (me included) would be willing to go to jail in return for being taken for 15. I felt the same way about the woman who was arrested several years ago, after complaints from her neighbors. She was 87 and her offense was playing a banjo too late and too loudly.

There is no doubt about the health-giving and youth-prolonging effects of regular daily exercise. Most women age because of rocking chairitis rather than because of exercise. Do not be frightened or led astray by the 26 exercises a day. This is far too much for the average woman. Just six or eight well-selected exercises a day will be enough.

Also remember that if exercise has not been your habit you should have a complete physical examination before you begin and then you should start slowly and

A Toast To The Future

The former Audrey Patricia Greer and her groom, Lieut. Michael Arthur Martin, R.C.N., toast each other following their marriage Saturday afternoon in Queen of Peace Church. Father Lewis MacLellan officiated. The bride is the youngest daughter of Col. and Mrs. H. C. Greer, 1394 Esquimaux Road, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Arthur Martin, Kingston, Ont., and the late Maj. Martin. En route to Portsmouth, Eng., where they will make their home, the newlyweds will visit the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Col. and Mrs. C. M. R. Elmsley, Ottawa, and another brother-in-law and sister, Lieut. and Mrs. A. F. Rowland, in Montreal. They will sail aboard the Ss. Nova Scotia Dec. 22. (Photo by Goertz.)

Recent Wedding Of Interest In St. Andrew's Cathedral

The marriage of Rosette Lee, daughter of Mrs. J. F. Lee, Broughton Street, and late Mr. Lee, and Roger Newberry, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Newberry, Wildwood Avenue, was solemnized in the sanctuary at St. Andrew's Cathedral with Father D. Lehan officiating. White chrysanthemums decorated the sanctuary and Miss M. MacKay played wedding music.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Louis de Macedo, the bride was radiant in white satin styled in classic simplicity with lily-point sleeves and full skirt in train. Her embroidered veil of illusion net was held by a coronet of orange blossoms and pearls. She complemented her gown with a heirloom diamond lavallere and diamond sunburst, belonging to the groom's mother. She carried a blue and white rosary and a shower bouquet of tallisman roses.

Miss J. Murray maid of honor, chose a gown of dusty pink crepe with a shower bouquet of pink chrysanthemums. Miss Betty Newberry, sister of the groom, also an attendant, wore a rose-pink taffeta gown complemented with a bouquet of pink chrysanthemums.

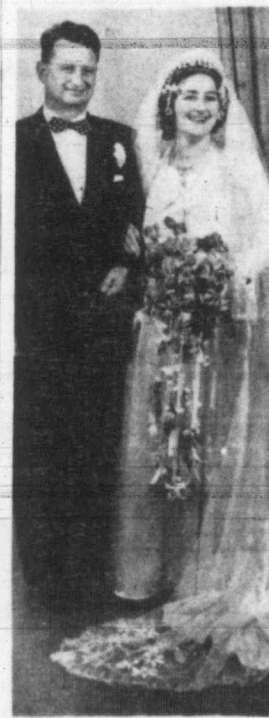

W. de Macedo, uncle of the bride, was best man, and J. Longpre ushers.

A wedding breakfast for the immediate wedding party was held at the Empress Hotel. A three-tier cake was cut with a sword belonging to the late J. A. de Macedo, grandfather of the bride. Father Lehan proposed the toast.

Leaving to motor through the States, the bride wore a blue iridescent and gold overcoat, taffeta dress topped with a fur coat, velvet and fur hat and a corsage of orchids.

Dance In Pre-Holiday Mood

It was a farewell for Dr. and Mrs. F. O. R. Garner at Empress Hotel supper dance Saturday night and a 21st birthday celebration for Mr. Ken Mayzes.

In pre-holiday mood guests danced to the rhythms of Billy Tickle and his Empress orchestra. There were numbers new and old, with several dedications throughout the evening.

The orchestra played "So Long, It's Nice to Have Known You," for Dr. and Mrs. Garner who will leave before the new year to take up residence at Tranquille.

In the party of 10 were Dr. and Mrs. Boyd Roberts, Dr. and Mrs. Fred Bonnell, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Acres, and Mr. and Mrs. G. A. R. Stelek.

Ken Mayzes, for whom the orchestra played "It's Later Than You Think," celebrated his birthday with Miss Joan Monk and a party of 12. In the group were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Monk, Mr. and Mrs. John Riddell, Mr. and Mrs. Beverly Smith, Miss Sharon Smith and Jim Mosher, Miss Marguerite Monk and Lawrie Patterson, Miss Ann MacIntosh, and Laurie Blake.

For a party of eight, the dance marked the pre-Christmas wind-up of their bridge club. In the group were Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Carney, Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Rod McInnes, and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Church.

At tables for four were Mr. and Mrs. Anson Firth and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Tye, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Alan Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Allan Leith. Also reserving for four was R. Newton. Others making reservations were E. N. Smith for eight; L. L. Wood, 12; C. J. McNeilly, A. Evans, F. O. C. Grant, Dr. D. Lewis, J. Moraes and F. Ranson, all for two.

Married In London

Miss Susan N. Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nairn Robertson, St. Charles Street, who left Victoria early in September with Miss Elspeth MacDonald for England, was married in London, Saturday afternoon, to John C. Burke, of Winnipeg.

The bride was attended by Miss MacDonald. At present the newlyweds plan to make their home in London.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding of Blanche Dent and Charles Wright—Saturday evening—were Mrs. Clifford Mare, Vancouver, and Miss Eva Middleton, Alberni.

Mrs. John Harvey has come from Kentville, N.S., to spend the winter at the Empress Hotel. Since her last visit here, Mrs. Harvey has visited in England and in Bermuda. She is now renewing many friendships in this city.

Her many friends in Victoria will be interested to know that Mrs. Winnifred Mather will return to Vancouver from New York on December 15 to spend the Christmas season at the home of her mother, Mrs. David L. Stokvis. While home Mrs. Mather will attend the wedding in the mainland city of her brother, Mr. David Stokvis to Miss Elizabeth Black.

Annual Christmas dance for members of the staff of the Bank of Montreal was held Saturday evening in the Flamingo Room, Crystal Garden, with dancing to Hugh Gray's orchestra. Many of those attending entertained at parties in their homes prior to the dance.

Prize-giving ceremonies followed by a dance climaxed the finals of the badminton tournament of the Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club. Dave Philbrook, vice-president of the club, congratulated the winners and Mrs. A. W. E. Pitkethley, wife of the president, presented the awards and received a corsage of tallisman roses and carnations. The affair was held in the mezzanine lounge of the club.

Mrs. Norma MacDonald with Mrs. Alma Jordan, Miss Francis Jordan and Mrs. Saelinger, have issued invitations for their annual Christmas tea in the lounge at Oak Bay Beach Hotel on Sunday, Dec. 23, from 3.30 to 5.

Miss Jean Rae, daughter of Mrs. Helen Rae, Oliver Street, has returned home for the Christmas season from England where she has been for the past year-and-a-half. During that time she visited in the British Isles and on the Continent.

'Y' Auxiliary Names Officers

Mrs. C. C. Annett was named president of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Y.M.C.A. at the annual meeting.

Officers are: Mrs. F. Paulding, vice-president; Mrs. E. Nickell, secretary; Mrs. E. Appleton, treasurer; Mrs. E. Tomlin, house; Mrs. S. J. D. Clack, press; Mrs. H. Fielder, decorations; Mrs. H. M. Cotter, flowers; Mrs. F. L. Honor, telephone and cards; Mrs. H. L. Campbell, program; Mrs. F. T. Fairley, refreshments.

Report of the secretary, Mrs. Nickell, showed moneys raised through a card party, linen shower, rummage sales, and the annual membership tea which also marked 100th birthday of the Y.M.C.A. Treasurers report, given by Mrs. Appleton, showed balance of $541.17.

It was decided to spend $300 on refurnishing another room in the "Y." Linens, curtains and floor coverings have been provided during the year.

'Hillbilly' Grainger Fought With Italians

LONDON, Dec. 10 (CP).—Peter Grainger, the United States army's "shoeless hillbilly" was identified today as a wounded veteran of Britain's Eighth Army who fought alongside Italian partisans after escaping from a German prison camp in the last war.

Anscomb Glad At Prospects Of Oil In B.C.

There is no reason why British Columbia's oil development shouldn't be on just as great a scale as that of Alberta, Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb told the Cowichan-Newcastle Progressive Conservative Association at Duncan Friday.

"The whole strata of the country is the same as that of Montana and Alberta and it carries right through the Peace River District," said Mr. Anscomb.

The P.C. leader predicted tremendous industrial expansion. A. R. MacDougall, K.C., M.L.A., Point Grey, told the gathering British Columbia is on the threshold of undreamed-of expansion.

Oldtime Comic Polly Moran Taken Ill

FULLERTON, Calif., Dec. 10 (UP).—Former comedienne Polly Moran, whose screen antics with the late Marie Dressler tickled the funnybone of a downcast nation in the depression era, was under treatment for a heart ailment today at a hospital here.

Miss Moran, who retired from the screen in 1940 and again in 1949 after a short-lived comeback attempt, was moved to Fullerton General Hospital recently from her home in Laguna Beach, Calif., to be under the care of a local heart specialist.

But despite her serious illness, the irrepressible Polly already was making plans for a return to the theatrical world. A staunch admirer of television, she said she would like to crash the new medium when she recovers.

The 66-year-old comedienne began her movie career in 1915 under the guidance of Mack Sennett. She teamed with Marie Dressler in the 1920's in a series of slapstick silent films, but the combination found its greatest fame in talking pictures during the depression.

Miss Moran accepted a role in the film "Adam's Rib" in 1949 in a comeback attempt, but after working only two days she "got a real look at myself" and quit the picture.

GUY LOMBARDO

Lombardo Auto Hits Couple, Killing Man

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (UP).—Authorities said today they had "conflicting statements" from witnesses to an accident in which an automobile driven by Orchestra Leader Guy Lombardo struck and killed a man and injured a woman.

Police indicated the eyewitnesses differed as to whether a green light was changing at the time of the accident at 3.30 a.m. E.S.T. Sunday at a Queens intersection.

Investigating officers said "apparently the traffic light was in Lombardo's favor."

The orchestra leader, who was driving to his Freeport, N.Y., home alone following a performance with his band at a Manhattan hotel, was released without charges, but was requested to appear at a Jan. 9 hearing.

Isack Lillen, 65, owner of a chain of hardware stores, died shortly after he was struck by Lombardo's sleek British-made automobile.

Mrs. Molly London, 40, mother-in-law of one of Lillen's sons, at first was reported "critically injured," but Queens General Hospital authorities said she "checked out" Sunday against doctors' orders.

Canada Develops Secret Chemicals To Combat Insect Hordes Of North

OTTAWA, Dec. 10 (BUP).—The development of secret chemical compounds to fight vicious insects—worst enemy of defense forces in Canada's strategic north country—was disclosed today.

The department of agriculture announced that a number of new insect repellents were being tested, but said they would be kept under cover until investigations had been completed. The tests are being made jointly by the department of agriculture and the defense research board.

The new repellents would give Canada a potent new weapon to fight the hordes of biting bugs which demoralize defense forces during the insect season in the north. The most vicious insect in the north is the black fly which is found by the millions on the nation's vulnerable northern frontier.

The department said it was hoped that the new repellents would take the place of chemicals now being used to combat insects. These are Rutgers 612 and compound 622, which were developed in the United States several years ago and used extensively in the north during the last war.

The improved repellents now being examined were developed at the University of Toronto, and are now being tested here by the science service laboratories of the department of agriculture.

The department said the current research was undertaken some time ago to develop a repellent that would be non-toxic and non-irritant to man, safe for clothing, cheap and easy to produce and not too disagreeable in odor.

BEDTIME STORY

Tomb May Be St. Peter's, Book To Show

Albertan Dies In Car Mishap

Days were chilly and nights were cold. Most of the trees were bare. No longer were leaves red and yellow. Now they were dry and brown. dead. It was November. Most of Peter's friends had long since started for the sunny south to spend the winter. A few still lingered. Some had been gone a long time. A very few would stay, but they were few indeed.

"It's a sad time," said Peter to Mrs. Peter as they sat at the edge of the dear Old Briar-patch looking across the Old Pasture. "I always dread this time of year. Don't you, my dear?"

"No," replied little Mrs. Peter shortly.

Peter opened his eyes a little wider. "Why don't you?" he asked.

"Why should I? retorted little Mrs. Peter.

"Because," began Peter, and stopped.

"Because what?" little Mrs. Peter wanted to know.

"Because it is so sort of lone-some with so many of our friends gone. Because things look so sort of dead," explained Peter a bit lamely.

"Huh!" exclaimed little Mrs. Peter. "Aren't you feeling well?"

"Of course I'm feeling well," replied Peter. "Why?"

"You seem to be low in your spirits," replied Mrs. Peter, "and there isn't any reason that I can see. A lot of our old neighbors are gone for the winter, and for some of them I can say 'good riddance.' They'll all be back in the spring if nothing happens to any of them."

"That's it," cried Peter. "Something may happen to them and we may never see them again."

"Something might have happened to them if they had stayed here, so what's the difference?" retorted Mrs. Peter. She reached up and bit off a twig from a bush just above her head. She dropped it in front of Peter.

"Look at that," said she.

Peter looked down at the twig, then looked at Mrs. Peter. His face wore a puzzled expression. "What about it?" he asked.

"I don't suppose you see any pretty green leaves on it," said little Mrs. Peter.

Peter really stared at her then. "Are you a little bit crazy?" he asked. "Of course I don't see any green leaves. There aren't any leaves. It's just a bare twig."

Little Mrs. Peter shook her head sadly. "It is too bad, Peter. It is just too bad," said she.

"What is too bad?" snapped Peter. He was beginning to lose patience.

"It is too bad that you can't see anything but a bare twig," retorted Mrs. Peter. "All next summer's leaves are right on it this very minute. Every time I look at what you call a bare bush or a bare tree, I see next summer's leaves."

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 10 (Reuters).--The secrets of a mysterious tomb directly beneath the high altar of St. Peter's Cathedral--said to be the tomb of the Apostle St. Peter himself--will be revealed soon by the Pope.

A 200-page volume will set out the full story of a 10-year search for St. Peter's burial place and how it ended in two small chambers under the huge house of worship dedicated to his memory. It became known today that the volume was already being compiled about two years ago--long before the Pope announced last Christmas that St. Peter's tomb had been found.

The Vatican has gone to extraordinary lengths to keep the volume secret. Printers were given isolated pages to prevent them making any sense out of it. Workmen were sworn to secrecy.

Not more than four or five people are believed to have actually visited the tomb.

Although many believe the bones found in the tomb are those of St. Peter, the Pope has ruled that the volume must not make any final judgment.

Two facts, it is understood, will be cited to prove St. Peter died in the nearby circus of Nero, where, according to tradition, he was crucified.

The first is the discovery of a stone tablet which provides the first archaeological indication of the site of the circus.

The second is the odd fact that the tomb is in the middle of a pagan cemetery.

That the Christians chose an area known for constant sacrifices to pagan idols is taken to indicate they wished to bury the martyr as near as possible to the spot where he died.

LACOMBE, Alta., Dec. 10 (CP).--Freddie Edgar White, 21, of Lacombe, died in Lacombe Hospital Saturday after a two-truck collision--three miles south of Lacombe on the Calgary-Edmonton Highway.

White's truck collided with a northbound truck driven by Lewis Scott, of Red Deer, who suffered a fractured leg and undetermined injuries.

SEATTLE, Dec. 10 (AP).--The North Pole will get a pole tomorrow. And Santa Claus, if he really hangs out up there, as legend has it, will get 5,000 letters in one batch from his fans--the kids.

An Alaska Airlines DC-4, specially outfitted, took off from Seattle Sunday night on the first leg of a flight to deliver pole and letters to the Pole. It will hop to Fairbanks and, after ceremonies there, take off Monday noon for Point Barrow on the Arctic rim. From there it will start the 12-hour flight over the icy wastes to the Pole and return.

The flight will be the first by a commercial airliner over the Pole.

Aboard will be one of the few women to fly over the Pole. She is "North Pole Nellie," also known as Mrs. Audree Vance--the Alaska mother who initiated the idea of inviting children to send their letters to Santa Claus in her care at Fairbanks.

Indications are, however, that one prime figure in "Operation North Pole" won't be aboard. He is Stan-Garson, former worker at the navy's Point Barrow oil reserve.

Garson conceived the idea of the Pole and saved up the money to build the big red and white striped steel cylinder. Airlines officials said civil aeronautics administration regulations won't permit him to make the flight since only employees will be permitted aboard. Mrs. Vance qualifies by being named stewardess for the flight.

PATRICK NOT WORRIED OVER THREATENED SUIT

Canada Dollar Near U.S. Par

Huge Influx Of Capital Reported Cause Of Gains

By HARRY YOUNG

Another big jump in the exchange rate today sent Canada's dollar the closest to parity with the U.S. it has been for many years.

The official rate in New York today was 98 1/2 cents for the Canadian dollar. In Victoria banks the most that could be secured on U.S. cheques today was 1 1/2 cents premium, while one cent only was allowed on currency transactions.

Huge investments of American capital in Canada are given by experts as the chief reason for the jump in Canadian dollar value. In the last three weeks the discount has been reduced from 4 1/2 cents to today's 1 1/2 cents. Today the Canadian rate jumped 9-16ths of a cent.

This represents a big change from October 5, 1950, when the government decided to take the Canadian dollar off its peg. Until that time the Canadian dollar was maintained at 10 per cent discount in comparison with the U.S. dollar.

When the change was made experts had widely varied ideas of what would happen, and a few, who looked upon the development of the country as one of the great factors in western democracy, believed that the day might come when the Canadian dollar might even reach a premium with its greenback brother south of the border.

Now they look like achieving their prophesy. The Canadian dollar, which on Oct. 9 was at a discount of over 5 cents, has gradually strengthened during the past two months.

A Victoria bank foreign exchange expert said that the strength in the Canadian dollar was due to the big demand for the currency in New York.

"It is just like the egg or butter market," he said. "When the demand is kept the price goes up. That's just what has happened to the Canadian dollar. There's a big demand for it."

The demand is caused by U.S. investment of capital in many Canadian industrial and mining enterprises. There has been big buying of Imperial Oil, whose capital is being increased by about $80,000,000; while the increased dividend and stock split announcement of Consolidated Mining & Smelting has caused much U.S. buying of this stock, and also of C.P.R., which controls it.

Hundreds of millions of U.S. dollars are also being sunk in Alberta oils and B.C., Quebec, Ontario and Manitoba mining enterprises.

Faint Hope Of Truce By Time Limit

Korea Talks Marked By Delay, Distrust

MUNSAN, Korea, Dec. 10 (AP).—Only 17 days remain for Allied and Communist negotiators to agree on an armistice within the 30-day time limit they set. The outlook is gloomy.

The negotiations entered their sixth month today with an Allied demand for immediate talks on exchanging prisoners of war.

The truce sub-committee also are locked in stubborn debate over how to enforce an armistice.

The talks have piled up a record of bitter debate, delay, distrust, deadlock and—at varying times since they opened July 10—prolonged suspension.

But some high Allied officers express belief privately that an armistice agreement may yet be reached by Dec. 27. That was the date agreed upon as a deadline when the issue of a buffer zone across Korea was settled Nov. 27.

It took four months to agree on the demilitarized zone which would separate opposing armies. That zone follows the current battle line, most of it north of the 38th parallel.

Both sides then introduced plans for supervising an armistice. They were wide apart.

The Allies proposed joint Allied-Red inspection teams free to travel all over Korea; the right to rotate troops and replace worn equipment; a ban on military build-up including construction of airfields; the right to hold war-won islands off North Korea.

Later, the Allies said they would give up the islands for "suitable compensation."

Aged Woman Dies
After Fire Wraps
Her Aproned Form

Burned when her apron caught fire while leaning over a stove, Mrs. Annie Rogers, 86, of 954 Burnside West, died in Royal Jubilee Hospital Sunday.

Sanich police report that an inquest may be ordered by Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner.

Police said that Mrs. Rogers was cooking over an electric stove when the apron caught fire. Mrs. Rogers' clothing was aflame when Sanich police arrived. They were called by Mrs. Rogers' husband, George Rogers.

Closing Prices
Western Uranium was easier at $3.80 on the Vancouver Stock Exchange this afternoon.

Canadian Western Lumber gained one-eighth at $11.

Kootenay Belle was 55c. Kootenay Base Metals 27 cents. Sil-bright Premier 62 cents and Wellington three and three-quarter cents.

Oils and Industrials were idle.

FINAL BULLETINS

Two Hurt In Malahat Crash

A car stolen earlier, being driven back to Victoria by its owner, J. R. Ryan, Royal Anne Mansions, was in collision on the Malahat near Goldstream Sunday night. J. K. Morris, driver of the second car, sustained a fractured knee, Ryan head and back injuries. The Ryan car, police report, skidded and struck the northbound vehicle head-on.

Explosion Rocks Oil Tanker

SARNIA, Ont., Dec. 10 (CP).—An explosion aboard the Imperial Leduc set the ship, the world's largest fresh-water oil tanker, afire late today. An hour after the blast the 15,800-ton, $4,000,000 vessel was reported listing badly with the fire under control.

Three men were injured.

Giants Take Option On Chorlton

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP).—The New York Giants today sold shortstop Artie Wilson to Seattle of the Pacific Coast League for an undisclosed sum of cash and an option to buy outfielder K. Chorlton at the end of the 1952 season.

Wilson was a big star for Oakland in the P.C.L. until he came up to the Giants last spring.

Chorlton, a 22-year-old right-handed hitting outfielder, batted .340 for Tacoma of the class B Western International League last season.

A-Tests Reach 'Vital Things'
WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (UP).—Chairman Gordon Dean of the Atomic Energy Commission said today that "very vital things" were learned in this year's nuclear tests which will produce "an immediate payoff" in terms of newer and better atomic weapons.

Dean would not discuss what kinds of new weapons are being manufactured as a result of the tests recently concluded at Las Vegas, Nev.

But he said the tests have "already had a substantial effect" on the weapons program.

Canada Financiers Seek Control Of H.B.C. Stock

TORONTO, Dec. 10 (CP).—The Telegram says today in a financial page story that a group of businessmen to bid for control. I believe some stock has been acquired in Winnipeg, Edmonton, Calgary and Vancouver.

The Wall Street Journal of New York recently commented on U.S. interest in C.P.R., the H.B.C., and other Canadian companies.

The Hudson's Bay Co. owns valuable oil properties in Alberta and British Columbia.

It is believed that recent oil strikes have made investors "bullish" on the company—particularly as it coincides with a period when Britain needs Canadian and American dollars.

Clare Chubb, general manager of the Victoria branch of H.B.C., told The Times that reported sale of the company was "a false rumor."

F. R. Graham, well-known Vancouver financier whose name has been mentioned as one of those interested in the Hudson's Bay Co., told The Times that he "knew of no organized group" whose aim was to acquire control.

At the same time, he said: "Over the past year, there has been a large Canadian interest established in the company. Probably 250,000 shares have been acquired."

"But the stock has been held for generations in the old country. It isn't dislodged easily. The floating supply of stock would perhaps only be a quarter of the whole."

"Several Canadian names have been mentioned as interested in the deal in recent months but many of them appear to be in the 'rumor' class. I don't know."

Ol' Vic Says:
'Pears th' brewery workers ended up with just what they were offered in th' first place. Looks like th' umpire should o' called a low bowl' steada a strike.

Still a lot of agreein' t' do at Panmunjom if they're goin' t' be off th' benches by Christmas.

Many a candidate who appeals t' th' voters doesn't appeal t' them.

Defies Amateur League To Prove 'Monopoly'

"Let them sue."
That was Cougar owner Lester Patrick's reaction to a Canadian Press dispatch from Vancouver today, stating that "legal action against the Victoria Hockey Club may be taken by the Pacific Coast Senior Amateur Hockey League" over a reported clause in the contract between the club and the Memorial Arena Commission banning amateur hockey in the arena during the P.C.H.L. season.

Patrick admitted there was a clause in the contract which prohibited senior hockey in the Memorial Arena, but would not enlarge on the subject as he did not have a copy of the contract handy when questioned.

Blair Cook, spokesman for the Senior Amateur Hockey League, is reported as saying: "It is known as clause 18 and prohibits the staging of amateur hockey in the arena during the P.C.H.L. schedule and playoff series." A similar agreement is reported in effect at the Vancouver Forum.

In regard to that statement, Patrick said, "It looks like there is a leak in the commission."

CHARGES MONOPOLY
Cook, who charges that a monopoly exists, is also quoted as saying, "We will fight this thing to the end and in court if necessary. The present two-team league (Nanaimo and Kerrisdale) is a lost cause. We need a Victoria team and another team in Vancouver at the Forum. The pros are just trying to freeze us out."

Doug Grimston, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, said the C.A.H.A. would "definitely take action."

Dow Harkin, holder of a senior franchise in Victoria, is reported to be planning to lead a team in the city next season.

Harkin is reported as saying: "The views were given by Pat Aitken of Trail and, according to retiring president Gerry Thompson of Trail, 'expressed the opinion of the entire B.C. body.'"

The Victoria and Vancouver arenas were also criticized for not giving more attention to minor playoff games.

3 COMPANIES BACK DOWN ON OIL PIPE

Fourth Firm Declares Inability To Go Ahead With Case Before Ottawa Hearing

OTTAWA, Dec. 10 (CP).—Three of five companies seeking oil pipeline franchises between Alberta and the west coast today withdrew their applications before the Board of Transport Commissioners.

The board indicated it would rule on the application of one of the two remaining companies—Trans-Mountain Oil Pipeline Company, which wants to run a line from Edmonton to Vancouver by way of the Yellowhead Pass through the Rockies.

The fifth firm—Champion Pipe Line Corporation—obtained an adjournment until the end of February, but Chief Commissioner J. D. Kearney said that would not hold up a decision on the Trans-Mountain application.

During the hearings the board received formal communications from the British Columbia and Alberta governments approving the Trans-Mountain application.

Independent and West Coast also had planned to follow the northern route. Alberta natural gas seeks a southern line dipping into the U.S., while Champion would follow an "all-Canadian" southern route to Vancouver.

WITHELDRAWS
The concerns that withdrew were West Coast Transmission Company, Independent Pipe Line

No Go For Rum, Rum Go For Some
The fate of 112,000 bottles of rum, being held here because the shipment would be sent to Vancouver for fumigation, was still undecided this morning.

Col. Donald McGugan, liquor commissioner, said there was no change in the situation but that he was working on a solution to the problem.

Meanwhile, the large shipment laid idle at Ogden Point docks—the centre of considerable attraction all of a sudden.

Customs officials, who are directly concerned, guessed the shipment would be sent to Vancouver for fumigation. The exporters would have to pay the cost of fumigation.

The other solution would be to talk Ottawa into approving the Dutch veterinary officer who carried out the fumigating task, on official said.

City liquor stores are already out of the two brands, Lemon Hart and Lamb's. Esquimalt's store has enough for about two days.

Among The Survivors

A Camiguin Island mother and her children rest on Mindanao Island, after they escaped the flaming death that followed the eruption of the volcano Hibok Hibok in the Philippines. The little girl weeps for her father, one of an estimated 2,000 persons who were trapped or killed when the volcano suddenly exploded.

RAGING TYPHOON HITS PHILIPPINES

125-Mile-An-Hour Storm Adds To Tumultuous Scene As Hibok Hibok Continues To Erupt

MANILA, Dec. 10 (AP).—A raging tropical typhoon ripped through the central Philippines today. It killed at least 14 persons, left thousands homeless and wrecked millions of dollars worth of crops and buildings.

As the 125-mile-an-hour storm churned into the Sulu Sea, Associated Press correspondent Frank A. White reported from Cebu City on Cebu Island, that at least 12 persons were dead and hundreds homeless.

White said virtually every building made of light materials was partially wrecked and many large structures lost roofs or sustained other damage. Cebu bore the brunt of the storm.

The Philippine News Service reported two persons killed and 17 injured at Iloilo, on the southern tip of Panay Island west of Cebu. The news service said thousands were homeless.

On Negros Island, between Cebu and Panay, the news service estimated property damage in Bacolod City at a quarter million dollars and said 2,250 were reported homeless.

Radio communications with most of the devastated central islands were disrupted. Authorities feared casualties would be heavy.

Some 85 miles south of the typhoon's path, dying winds and quieter seas permitted rescue vessels to resume evacuation of 22,000 rain-soaked, frightened refugees from Camiguin Island, where Hibok Hibok volcano continued to spout molten rock and ashes.

Heavy rain accompanying the typhoon winds sent huge landslides of lava roaring down the slopes of Hibok Hibok volcano. Authorities feared towns on the north side of Camiguin Island, already covered by a deep blanket of ashes, would be buried by slides.

Egypt May Sever U.K. Relations

CAIRO, Egypt, Dec. 10 (AP).—Egypt's government today considered severing diplomatic relations with Britain following leveling of an Egyptian village by road-building British soldiers.

The acting foreign minister, Ibrahim Farag Pasha, said a decision will be made soon. The cabinet held two lengthy sessions Sunday but a spokesman said only that Anglo-Egyptian relations were discussed.

In the Suez Canal zone, British sources announced that two of their soldiers were stabbed, beaten and killed and a third was critically wounded in Ismailia's Arab quarter Saturday night.

An Egyptian communique reported another Egyptian dead from wounds received in the fighting at Suez last Tuesday, raising to 51 the number of Egyptians reported killed.

CONFISCATE LANDS

The Egyptian cabinet Sunday also approved a royal decree confiscating the lands of the 78-year-old British-founded Gezira Sporting Club in Cairo.

The club's 150-acre establishment includes a race course, polo field and golf course, leased from the government and situated in Cairo's expensive foreign residential section.
